Western Powers Seeks To Agree On Common Policy

Issues Of Italian Colonies
And Franco Spain Are Under Scrutiny

PREPARING FOR ACTION BY U.N.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 2.—The three principal western powers are striving today to complete a common policy on major issues such as disposition of Italian colonies and a stand on Franco Spain for presentation to the United Nations.

Word reaching Lake Success from Washington indicated that with the exception of minor differences, the foreign ministers of France, Britain and the United States see eye to eye.

Briefing Policy

Consequently Secretary of State Dean Acheson, in giving a full briefing today on U. S. policy at next week's U. N. general assembly to Warren R. Austin and the team of the American delegation he will head.

Advance reports are that the U. S. will strive in every way to take constructive part in the debate on Indonesia, without giving too much leeway to "excessive" action condemning the Dutch for their aggression and subsequent defiance of U. N.

At Lake Success, there is every sign in the wind that the U. S., Britain and France are going to be raked over the coals by the small powers—and the Soviet bloc—for failing to discipline the Dutch. Open charges are expected to come to the surface that partner nations in the Atlantic pact will henceforth be shielded by the west against U. N. criticism and rebuke.

Problem Of Spain

The problem of Franco Spain is another agenda item on which the U. S. will proceed slowly. As far as is known, the U. S. will forego any campaigning against or in (Continued on Page Two)

A local family has three people born on the same day although not on April 1 as depicted in Friday's News. Sisters Mrs. Fred M. R. D. 2, Volant, and Mrs. Jeff Graham, 502 County Line street, and their brother, James E. McConahy, R. D. 1, Volant, were all born on November 13 of different years.

Folks who had thoughts of a little early gardening earlier in the week, were reminded that only the hardest of stuff can be planted as yet. The temperature got down to 24 degrees during the night, and there was a heavy frost evident this morning.

Pa News finds from a blotter received with all the new state license plates on it that at least six other states and the District of Columbia in the U. S. have plates similar in color this year to those of the Keystone state. States with corresponding tags, orange background and dark letters include Alabama, District of Columbia, California, New York, North Carolina, Texas and West Virginia. Nine states have a gray background with dark letters.

Just two weeks from tomorrow and Easter will have arrived in all its splendor. Present cold snap keeps the feminine members of the house in a quandary as to whether the lighter spring suit should be purchased.

Although there was a chill to the air today, many trout fishermen will travel along various streams tomorrow to study water conditions, and fishing prospects.

Police Chief E. D. Hanna today assigned Grover C. Syling and Ray Richards to eliminate, as much as possible, double parking in the up-town business lanes. Saturday traffic is usually heavy.

Daily Weather Report

Boy Of Year Greeted By President

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Being elected as boy of the year, by the Boy's Club of America, Jimmy (Stuffy) Montgomery, of Hot Springs, Arkansas, is shown shaking hands with President Truman. The 14 year old lad also received the President's autograph and a pen, inscribed: "I swiped this from Harry S. Truman".

Y.M.C.A. Drive For Members Exceeds Goal

Noon Report Shows Campaign Has 163 Memberships Over Quota Of 1,100

Incomplete reports today revealed that the YMCA 1949 membership campaign has exceeded its goal of 1,100 members.

The membership figure to date is 1,263 and there are still several reports to be made in the next few days.

General Chairman Alec Samuels has expressed a general welcome to all new members of the Y and a sincere statement of appreciation to the many team captains and workers whose efforts put the drive over the top.

Expect Senate To Pass Tax Repeal On Oleomargarine

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., declared today that "the chances are excellent" that the Senate will join the House in repealing all federal taxes on Oleomargarine.

Lucas' prediction followed a smashing 287 to 98 vote in the House yesterday for the lifting of all federal restrictions on the sale of the yellow butter substitute.

The Democratic leader foresaw speedy action by the Senate Finance Committee, which last year unanimously approved a House-enacted measure repealing federal taxes.

The president and the Democratic party are pledged to repeal.

Legion Head To Be Here Monday

Perry Brown, National Commander Of Legion, To Address District Members

OVER THOUSAND WILL BE PRESENT

Over a thousand members of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be in attendance at the annual National Commander's banquet in the Cathedral, Monday evening, when the posts of the 26th district will be host to National Commander Perry Brown, of Texas.

Commander Brown is on his annual swing around the nation, keeping the Legionnaires informed on what is new in veterans work, and the program of the Legion.

Accompanying him will be Department Commander Larry Trainor, of Duquesne, department president, Mrs. D. A. Krumrine, of State College, and other state and national officers.

There will be delegations from eastern Ohio posts as well as from all of Western Pennsylvania here for the program, which will include a banquet, address by the commander, and dancing.

Cyclotron Coils Complete Trip

SAXONBURG, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—The two 90-ton Carnegie Tech cyclotrons today had completed the 3,500 trip from Brooklyn to the school's research center at Saxonburg.

The final leg of the journey, 34 miles over land from Kittanning to Saxonburg, was completed yesterday. The coils were shipped from Brooklyn by way of the Gulf of Mexico, the Mississippi, Ohio and Allegheny rivers.

Two Eclipses To Be Seen This Year

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh district will see both a "full Easter moon" and a total eclipse this year.

Arthur E. Draper, director of the Buhl Planetarium, said that the full Easter moon comes on Tuesday, April 12, will be eclipsed that evening.

Senate Moves Toward Vote On Marshall Fund

Two Attempts To Reduce Amount Of Fund Defeated In Senate

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The weary Senate moved toward a final vote on new Marshall Plan aid today after defeating two attempts to cut the proposed five and one-half billion dollar program.

Democratic leaders were forced into a Saturday session to continue debate on the European aid bill when no agreement for a weekend recess was forthcoming.

Before adjourning at 11 p. m., the senators beat down, 68-14, an attempt to reduce the administration's appropriation request by 15 percent, and 54-23, another effort to slash it by 10 percent.

The latter move, sponsored by Sen. Taft, Ohio, Senate Republican policy leader, and Sen. Russell (D) Ga., was viewed as the most potent threat to the measure. (Continued on Page Two)

Twenty-Seven Are Graduated

Terrace School For Crafts-men Has Graduation Dinner Event Friday Night

Twenty-seven men were graduated from the Terrace School for Craftsmen Friday night, April 1, a graduation dinner honoring them was held in a Croton avenue restaurant.

All of the men have completed an intensive course in either carpentry, cabinet making or upholstery and are now prepared to practice their trades.

Local Graduates

Of the 27, 17 are from New Castle or the districts adjoining New Castle.

The names of the graduates in this district follow:
James G. Boalick, R. D. 8; Robert J. Calvert, 1614 South Jefferson; Harry F. Cameron, R. D. 8; Mike D. Cuhran, 11 Charles; Charles Dean, 728 Chestnut; Anthony L. Fiore, R. D. 1; Samuel M. Hollins, 710 West North.

Gerald Kornum, 434 Countyline; Joseph S. Mundziak, 1022 Court; Ralph S. McConnell, R. D. 8; Knox; Chester Nasti, R. D. 8; Mario O. Novalesi; Wampum; Albert T. Padula, 731 Pearl; Michael Peluso, 410 Electric; Mike J. Proch, R. D. 8; Chester Rybka, 101 Miller; and Albert D. Verzilli of 905 Chestnut street.

According to Lynn H. Luxenberg, director of the Terrace school, these men are competent in their trades and are ready to take their place beside veteran craftsmen anywhere.

Named Queen Of 1949 Cherry Blossom Festival

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sam Jack Kaufman, master of ceremonies at the Cherry Blossom Ball Friday, points to the wheel's choice as the wheel of chance chooses Miss Judy Queen, of Billings, Montana, center, as Queen of the 1949 Cherry Blossom festival. Miss Washington of 1948, Jody Miller, holds high the hand of the reigning Queen, who will be crowned during the festivities.

Violence In Taxi Strike In New York

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—A total of 23 arrests and sporadic reports of violence today marked the second day of the strike of approximately 9,000 New York City taxi drivers.

Those arrested included three brothers and another man, all striking drivers, who were held responsible for the collision of a cab with two parked cars.

Another striker, Bobby Lane, 32, was sentenced to 30 days in jail for threatening driver Charles Rice with a knife.

Service Curtailed

Taxi service in New York City continued sharply curtailed from the 9,000 cabs usually in operation. However, the number of cars operating seemed to be higher than the 950 police said were rolling yesterday.

The three arrested brothers were Charles, Thomas and Frank Pittman, all charged with malicious mischief. Their companion, Ernest Williams, was charged with assault.

Report Four Confess Slaying Missionary

South Korean Authorities Say Four Communists Admit Slaying Mrs. Underwood

SEOUL, April 2.—(INS)—South Korean authorities announced today that four Communists have admitted the slaying of Mrs. Ethel Underwood, 60, an American Presbyterian missionary.

The Interior Ministry said that the four confessed slayers—members of the Communist Student League—related that they intended to kill Miss Yoon Sook Mo, anti-Communist poetess.

The gunmen invaded the Underwood home in Seoul during a tea party March 17 and shot Mrs. Underwood to death when she resisted them.

Police said they had under arrest two other young Communists, held as accessories, and six more detained on suspicion.

Interior Minister Kim Hyo Suk said that Kim Suk Joon, so-called "commander-in-chief" of the Communist League, was accused of masterminding the death plot.

Mrs. Underwood had been a missionary in Korea since 1917 and, with her husband, had been connected for many years with the Chosen Christian University in Seoul.

JUNE KNIGHT WEDS

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 2.—(INS)—Musical comedy star June Knight, 36, and Carl Squier, 55, Lockheed aircraft sales manager, were honeymooning today in Las Vegas. The couple was married last night at the Hotel Last Frontier's Little Church of the West.

They planned a wedding trip to El Paso and Dallas, Tex., and New York City. Miss Knight, who gave her real name as Margaret Rose Vallikett, formerly was married to Paul Ames, New York stockbroker, while Squier is a widower.

DEATH RECORD

Ask Three Nations To Explain Peace Treaty Violations

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—The United States and Great Britain today strongly protested to communist dominated Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary against "repeated" violations of their peace treaties in denying religious and human freedoms.

Joint Protest Made

The firmly-worded joint protest demanded that the Russian satellite states adopt prompt remedial measures and cease "deliberately" violating the human rights provisions of the treaties.

The state department called foreign offices in Sofia, Budapest and Bucharest to task and said it will accept "no specious argument" that it is interfering in the three nations' domestic affairs.

Prompt "remedial measures" are demanded. The ultimate aim is to carry the case before the United Nations.

Say No Acute Unemployment Problem Near

BELLELAIR, Fla., April 2.—(INS)—A group of top industrial leaders believe today that there is no acute unemployment problem in sight and that declining prices are generally to be welcomed.

Businessmen, from 28 states and the District of Columbia, yesterday ended a conference of the Industrial Relations Institute at Belleair.

The conference was sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The industrial leaders said that unemployment increases this year were only a "drop in the bucket" in relation to the over-all employment picture.

The predicted, however, that both prices and corporate profits will be lower during the coming year.

Will Celebrate 103rd Birthday On Sunday

Keen, and still very much alert, Angelo Rossi of New Castle will observe his 103rd birthday on Sunday, and for him it has become a reality, what many people wishfully hope, "to live to be a hundred."

Sacrifice, and hard work has been his motto in life—ever since he was seven years of age. For Angelo Rossi has lived a full life, replete with adventure and color. Today he is still enjoying good health, still has his hearing and reads his Bible every day.

To what does Mr. Rossi attribute his longevity? He admits work is man's survival, and although he claims that drinking is harmful, "a little wine won't hurt." He does not smoke.

Born In 1846

Born near Mt. Cassino, Italy, on April 3, 1846, Angelo Rossi was on "his own" at the age of seven years. Starting as a water boy in Rome, he worked at the nearby grape vineyards and walked several miles on foot to work every day. At the age of 22, Mr. Rossi took himself a wife in Mt. Cassino. Then when he was 29 years of age his desire to travel found him in Paris and there he worked in a sugar refinery for five years. Finally he returned to Mt. Cassino. Today, his mind still able to relate the incidents of his early years, Mr. Rossi smiles as he tells (Continued on Page Two)

Twelve Foreign Ministers Plan For Pact Signing

Historic Ceremony Of Signing Atlantic Pact Is Scheduled For Monday

FINAL PLANS ARE BEING MADE TODAY

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2. Foreign Ministers of all 12 North Atlantic powers meet today for the first time unperturbed by Russian charges that their mutual defense alliance is aggressive.

The arrival of Denmark's Gustav Rasmussen rounded out the even dozen who will affix their signatures to the historic pact in Monday's formal ceremonies.

A Soviet protest filed with the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg is certain to meet flat rejection.

May Ignore Red Blast

Some thought is being given to ignoring the Russian blast completely.

Officials are convinced that the Russian note was issued primarily for propaganda purposes. It appears to call for no answer and indicates that politburo officials who prepared it have not read the text of the treaty.

As a counter move, however, if only for relay over the Voice of America and other mediums which reach behind the iron curtain, a formal reply meeting the Soviet charges one by one is regarded as necessary.

If it was designed to cause dismay among the visiting dignitaries who are to sign the Atlantic pact, it missed its point badly. Most refused even to comment on the Russian charges. Those who did, treated them with indifference.

Dress Rehearsal

In what may be a sort of dress rehearsal for the Monday big show, which President Truman will attend (Continued on Page Two)

Chicago Fire Kills Two, Injures Five

Fire Sweeps Through Floor Of Tenement House Across From Fire Station

CHICAGO, April 2.—(INS)—Two children were burned to death early today and five other persons injured in a fire which swept through the fourth floor of a Chicago tenement house across the street from a fire station.

Trapped in their bedroom, William Harris, Jr., 10, and his brother, Henderson Harris, 6, died despite efforts of their father to break through the flames to save them.

The father, with a daughter, Eleanor, 11, and Harris' mother-in-law, Mrs. Allean Richards, 51, suffered burns and were taken to county hospital for treatment.

Henry Reed, 54, and his wife, Catherine, 52, were taken from the fourth floor by firemen and given aid on the second floor until the fire was brought under control. Then the couple was taken to the hospital suffering from smoke inhalation.

It isn't so long since the football fan was rooting his team to a win, a matter of weeks, or only some months, and already the grid-ders begin to run to pass and to tackle a man, just training of course for the fall, but training for football is rugged my friend, and calls for men husky and tall. The kinks in their legs have hardly worn off, till the coach has them out for the play, who said it's a sport just for cool, snowy times, it's ... cool, and 43 today.

GRESH-GRANIAS

WEDDING IN CHICAGO

An impressive ceremony performed March 25 at 11 o'clock a.m. in the Thordike Hill Chapel of the University of Chicago, united in marriage Miss Barbara Jean Gresh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gresh, of Neshannock boulevard, this city, and Evon C. Granias, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Granias, of Chicago, Ill. Rev. Dr. L. Tinker of the Brynmar Methodist church of Chicago, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

The bride was stunning in a pearl gray tone on tone suit, with navy blue and pink accessories. She carried a white prayer book and pink camellias.

As maid of honor, Miss Janet Ann Gresh, sister of the bride, of New Castle, wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

Irving Brenholz served the groom as best man.

The wedding breakfast was served in the Marine dining room of the Edgewater Beach hotel for 31 relatives and close friends.

The newlyweds have dispensed with a wedding trip for the present and are residing in their hotel apartment in the Hotel Plaisance, 1545 East 60th street, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Granias is a graduate of New Castle High school and of New Castle Business College. She is now employed as a stenographer for the Standard Oil Co. in their research department in Chicago.

Mr. Granias is a graduate of the University of Illinois. He attended Graduate School at the University of Chicago and Harvard university and served as a lieutenant (jg) in the Naval Reserve during the recent war. He is now employed as a research physicist for the Standard Oil Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wimer, R. D. 4, will observe their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with an "open house" celebration on Saturday evening, April 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mate McKim, Route 19, three miles south of Harlensburg.

Gayette Club

Members of the Gayette club met in their club rooms Thursday evening, with Mrs. Michael Cercell and Mrs. Andy Cercell as hostesses.

Plans were made to hold a tureen dinner sometime in the near future. The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. John Marinelli and Mrs. Felix Dwyer were honored and each received a gift from her secret sister. Cards were in play, with prizes going to Mrs. William Barbato and Mrs. Sam Angelo. Mrs. Domenick Sciola was a special guest and was presented with a lovely gift.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be April 14, with Mrs. Sam Angelo and Mrs. Anthony Croach as hostesses.

Victory Class Assembles

Members of Victory Bible class gather in St. John's Lutheran church Friday evening, when Mrs. Frank Wimer conducted devotions.

Mrs. Eric Ericson, president, presented a travelogue, telling of a recent western trip. The speaker vividly described her group's experiences while traveling through snow-bound states, where they were stranded for several days.

Mrs. William Claple and Mrs. Louis Higgins, hostesses, served refreshments in keeping with the Easter season.

Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. George Woodring will be hostesses at the May assembly.

T. T. T. Group

Members of the T. T. T. Sewing Group met on Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Clarence Park, 409 Epworth street, with the president, Mrs. Ruth Borger in charge.

A Bible quiz was conducted, followed by sewing and chat. Mrs. Helen McGaffie won the surprise gift while Mrs. Park received a gift for her home.

Lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. C. A. Smith. On April 14, Mrs. Jean Collins, 411 Epworth street will be hostess.

Wild Bidders Club

Members of the Wild Bidders club met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. George Schuller of Franklin avenue.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Miss Lois Shoaf and Mrs. Clyde Reed, and at a late hour lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Paul Rice.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Lois Shoaf, 215 East Laurel avenue, April 20.

J 49 Club

The J 49 club met March 30 at the home of Dorothy Champ 616 Lutton street.

Games were the main diversion of the evening, prizes going to Miss Mary Metta and Ann Howe.

At a late hour a delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Olga Malizia.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mary Cascavilla on Florence avenue, April 20.

Declare Winter

Officially Worst

In S. California

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—(INS)—The worst winter in southern California history was declared to be official today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau pointed to no less than nine different weather classifications, and in all, the 1948-49 winter hit record lows.

The lowest temperature, the lowest composite mean, the heaviest snowstorms on record — all these were recorded in the three months just past.

PRAGUE, April 2.—(INS)—The United States embassy in Prague confirmed today that it has received a note from the Czech government explaining the arrest, conviction and sentencing of two American soldiers on espionage charges.

American officials refused to disclose contents of the note.

Blinded Scientist

Regaining Sight

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(INS)—Dr. Lloyd Smith, young atomic physicist blinded by exposure to radiation, was reported regaining his sight today.

Smith was operated on for a cataract on his right eye last Tuesday and when the bandage was removed yesterday told the attending surgeon:

"It's surprising how much I can see out of the eye already."

The surgeon, however, said he was not ready to call the operation a success until several more days have elapsed.

Smith was one of five physicists who developed cataracts on their eyes while working at the University of Illinois cyclotron in 1943.

Fire Which Left More Than

Fifty Homeless

CLEVELAND, April 2.—(INS)—Arson squad members began an investigation today of a $100,000 blaze which left 50 persons homeless in Cleveland.

The five-alarm fire, which broke out last night and was fought until early today, destroyed a three-story brick building housing the Rockford Furniture company and 21 suites.

An additional $100,000 damage was done to an adjoining two-story frame structure housing a millinery shop and two apartments.

No one was reported injured in the blaze which attracted thousands of spectators to the busy business section.

William A. Shaw, disaster director of the Greater Cleveland chapter of the American Red Cross, said that many of the homeless were elderly men and women who lived alone in the one and two-room suites.

Several of the tenants were rescued by passers-by as the fire swept swiftly through the building. The fire was believed to have begun in the furniture store.

Entertainment Program

Songs of yester-year mingled with some of the newer ones resounded throughout the recreation rooms of First Methodist church, Friday evening when a fine group assembled for the excellent program and entertainment which was presented by a number of the church organizations.

A chorus of young people and others from the church joined together harmonizing on such old favorites as "Long, Long Ago," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Little Annie Rooney," "Daisy Bell," "Clementine" and several others. Sandwiched in between the many choral presentations were solo and duet numbers, instrumental selections and good clean wit and humor.

Judge and announcer of the proceedings was Harry Lockley with Edwin Lewis presiding at the piano and Sam McCleary serving as singing teacher. Jerry Pander and his talented gang of entertainers was on hand to keep the show moving.

Others participating included: Lynn Fowler, Hazel Bloise, Willis Foster, Eleanor Bowden, Wilma Heckart, Leona Heckart, Carrie Wells, DeLace Cole, June Bender, Ellis May, Sid Lockley, Rev. J. A. Gaiser, Samuel Heckart, Mike Bowden, Eloise French, and a group of others taking part in the chorus.

Citation Given TO Churchill

British Leader Accorded Honor On Occasion Of
M.I.T. Visit

CHURCHILL READY TO RETURN HOME

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—Winston Churchill returned to New York from Boston today to board the Queen Mary and sail for home.

The former British prime minister and his wife arrived in Grand Central station this morning from the Massachusetts capital, where Churchill was cited for being a "symbol of resistance to oppression."

During his two-day stay in Boston, the 74-year-old statesman delivered a scathing attack against Russia, praised the North Atlantic pact, and endorsed a plan by Republican Harold E. Stassen for a billion dollar "MacArthur Plan" to fight Communism in Asia.

Citation Given

The citation M. I. T. gave the British conservative leader said: "Winston Spencer Churchill, warrior, statesman, student and maker of history, defender of democracy, who, in two years, has steadily upheld the case of the free peoples, and who, in his finest hour so behaved that his name stands engrossed on the tablets of mankind as the Twentieth Century symbol of resistance of oppression."

Churchill also was appointed an honorary lecturer of the institute, the nearest technical school could come to tendering him an honorary degree. Dr. James E. Killian, Jr., representing the school, said he hoped the appointment "will serve as a reminder to you in the future that we were delighted and honored by your visit."

Mrs. Churchill Gets Cake

But all the presentations went made to the cigar-smoking statesman. His wife received one, too. M. I. T. officials remembered it was Mrs. Churchill's birthday—and gave her a cake.

Churchill's daughter, Mrs. Christopher Soames, who accompanied her parents to the United States, only to fall ill shortly after arrival, was taken to the Queen Mary last night in an ambulance.

Her husband went aboard with her, and remained for ten minutes before returning to the apartment of multi-millionaire Bernard Baruch, who was the Churchill's host during their stay. His early departure was interpreted as an indication that the former Mary Churchill's condition is not serious.

Connellsville Has Fire Loss Of $35,000

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—A fire of undetermined origin today destroyed the "Little White House Inn" about five miles northeast of Connelleville.

The blaze which began after the club was closed for the night is expected to cause a total loss of $35,000. Joseph Cordaro of Connelleville owns the club.

Churchill Hints At Pacific Pact

Feels Pact Patterned After Atlantic Pact Ought To Be Looked Into

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—Winston Churchill declared today he feels a Pacific pact patterned on the North Atlantic pact "ought to be looked into."

He added, however, that in considering a defense pact for the Pacific areas "we must be careful not to spread our resources unduly."

The British wartime prime minister made his observation at a news conference just before sailing back to England aboard the liner Queen Mary.

With reference to Russia's formal charge that the Atlantic pact is "openly aggressive" and directed against the Soviet Union, Churchill declared:

"Those statements are about on the level with all other charges they have been making daily on the radio and in their papers for the last three or four years."

As to whether he felt Russia in reply to the Atlantic treaty might renounce its existing pacts with Britain and France, Churchill said without elaboration, "they don't seem to have been worrying much about it; we seem to have put up with their own views."

Churchill declined to expand on his statement in Boston Thursday night that except for U. S. possession of the A-bomb western Europe would have been communized and London "under bombardment" some time ago. That statement, he said, "stands in its naked simplicity."

ASK THREE NATIONS TO EXPLAIN PEACE TREATY VIOLATIONS

Nations in line with provisions written into peace treaties with each of the former Axis satellites. As outstanding examples of the refusal of the Balkan powers to abide by the civil liberties of the treaties, historic recent violations are cited.

Specifically Mentioned

In Hungary, the recent trial and sentence of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and the earlier one of Lutheran Bishop Ordass are specifically mentioned.

In Bulgaria, the execution of Agrarian party leader Nikolai Petkov and the suppression of his party as well as the trials of Protestant clergymen are labeled as outstanding violations.

In Romania, the "trial" and condemnation of Iuliu Maniu, leader of the National Peasant party, is mentioned as an example of the "intimidations and perversions of the judicial process."

The United States and Britain have been equally strong in condemning events in the iron curtain nations. Canada also endorsed the joint action although that nation does not have diplomatic representation in the Balkans and is not a party to the peace treaties.

Each of the treaties pledges the nations concerned that their citizens shall have "the enjoyment of human rights and of the fundamental freedoms" regardless of race, sex, language or religion. This is the basis for the protests.

The Northwest Fur company built a lock on the Canadian side of the Ste. Mary's river—Sault Ste. Marie—in 1797-98.

Report Leahy To Be Ambassador To Serve In Spain

PARIS, April 2.—(INS)—The right-wing Paris paper, L'Epoque, reported from Madrid today that Admiral William D. Leahy is believed to have been appointed U. S. Ambassador to Spain.

The newspaper, which is regarded as pro-Franco, said that the information was accepted as likely in Madrid circles.

Admiral Leahy, retiring chief of staff to President Truman, served as U. S. Ambassador to Vichy, France, during the war and has close ties with many Spanish officials.

In accordance with a United Nations resolution, the United States has no ambassador in Madrid but a change in U. N. policy on the Franco government may be forthcoming at the General Assembly session opening next week.

TWELVE FOREIGN MINISTERS PLAN FOR PACT SIGNING

tend, the 11 visiting foreign ministers meet today.

They will pass on plans drawn up for the formal signing in the presence of top officials and western power diplomats. These call for each to make a five-minute speech, to be followed by a slighter longer address by Mr. Truman.

The president may take the occasion to lay out at Russia's charges of aggression and point out that the fears of western Europe over Moscow's belligerent tendencies forced the adoption of the most important military alliance in recent history.

Discuss "Machinery"

Aside from planning the Monday ceremony, the foreign ministers also must discuss machinery to implement the pact. This is to be a council with a series of committees. Chief of these is the defense committee which will maintain international plans for meeting aggression anywhere.

There are likely to be committees on trade and commerce and on continuing political relations.

While the ministers are in Washington, advantage has been taken for the big three—the United States, Britain and France—to discuss the future of Germany.

Many problems have arisen in this field lately which require settlement on a top level. The most important decision will involve methods of using Germany's economy to the full during the rearmament period.

WILL CELEBRATE 103rd BIRTHDAY ON SUNDAY

of the colorful picture that greeted him in New York in 1880.

New York was then just beginning to grow, the Bronx was "sprouting," and citizens were fighting to oust Tammany from political control. There were the skyscrapers and the Brooklyn Bridge had just been completed. The subway system was being built and his first job was as a tunnel worker—his pay was $1.00 per day.

Came To Hillville

But his stay in New York was short-lived. Mr. Rossi headed south and tried his luck as a coal miner in both North and South Carolina. In 1888 he went to Hillville, Pa., where in January of the following year he started to work for the G. W. Johnson Limestone company, now a part of the Pittsburgh Limestone corporation.

Quarrying limestone back in the '90s was a lot different, Mr. Rossi explained, than it is today. Those were the days that the quarryman worked by contract blasting, breaking with a 25-pound sledge hammer; then loading by hand into small mule-drawn cars on narrow-gauge tracks to the dump.

It was hard work, sure, Mr. Rossi said, but they were paid well—in gold and silver at that time. He spent 32 years there, and today he is receiving a well-earned pension.

"If I wasn't stiff in the knees," he said with a twinkle in his eyes, "I could do it all over again."

One of his favorite pastimes is to relate about the by-gone years, with his friends who visit him. He is the father of two daughters and one son, who are living. His wife and another daughter died in 1937. Mr. Rossi leaves 55 grandchildren; 60 great-grandchildren, and 14 great-great-grandchildren.

Not wanting to be a burden to his children, Mr. Rossi resides comfortably in the Lawrence County Home. He enjoys his meals and good health and for the remainder of his days is trying to "catch up" with his reading. His aim? Well, he might reach to be 120 years of age. Who knows?

Deaths Of The Day

Everett Lee Cannon

Everett Lee Cannon, aged 51 years, of West Northview avenue, R. D. 3, died at his residence Friday at 4:30 p. m., following a sudden illness.

Mr. Cannon came to New Castle 32 years ago, from Rousseville, Pa., where he was born April 3, 1897, son of Audley and Sadie Stevenson Cannon.

He was a member of the Methodist church and was employed as a system operator of the Pennsylvania Power company. The deceased was a member of Masonic Lodge of the Craft, No. 433, F. A. ## Human Net Saves Family In Fire

Ex-Paratrooper Saves Wife And Two Children In Brooklyn Fire

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—If Luiz Alonzo, a slight young ex-paratrooper was part of the Ringling Brothers Circus Company arriving in New York today, he probably be billed as the "human net."

Alonzo was just that yesterday when he saved his wife, two small children and himself from death in a Brooklyn fire.

When fire gutted his apartment the 139 pound Alonzo kicked out a window and dropped 45 feet to a dirt surfaced yard, rolling over just the way he was instructed as a paratrooper.

Then his wife dropped his four-year-old son to him. Luiz caught the boy. His ten-month-old daughter came next. He caught her safely.

When his wife jumped Alonzo was unable to hold her, but he broke the fall enough so that she escaped with only a fractured ankle.

favor of Franco, leaving it to the assembly to vote on or leave the diplomatic ban in force since 1947.

On the separate items concerning the trials and imprisonment of church leaders in Bulgaria and Hungary, the U. S. is planning sharply to denounce such procedure as in violation of human rights and concepts.

Acheson's briefing of Austin and the rest of the U. S. on the whole outlines the following disposition of Italian colonies as far as assembly procedure is concerned:

1. An Italian trusteeship for Italian Somaliland.

2. Cession of a portion of Eritrea to Ethiopia.

3. A British trusteeship in Cyrenacia, eastern part of Libya.

The first essential taken into consideration on point three is that the Mediterranean key bastion of Tobruk remains without question in British hands.

Reports are that the Negus is coming personally to the United States in the near future to lay claim to all of Eritrea. The emperor firmly opposes any return of East Africa to Italy on the grounds that it would constitute a threat to Ethiopia's security.

The British are on the whole in line with U. S. plans. The French would have preferred postponement of a decision for the time being on Libya, including Cyrenacia.

SENATE MOVES TOWARD VOTE ON MARSHALL FUND

Nineteen Republicans joined 35 Democrats to smash it.

Says Move Defeated

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., told reporters that defeat of the Taft-Russell amendment "spells defeat" for any other attempt to materially modify the bill.

He called the attempted cut "arbitrary and irresponsible" and said the vote was "in line with what is best for the peaceful interests of the American people."

Lucas predicted that a compromise will solve the ticklish problem raised by an attempt of Sen. Brewster (R) Maine, to exclude from the aid program any nation which fails to obey orders or requests of the United Nations Security Council.

he Brewster amendment was aimed at the Netherlands because of her conduct in the Indonesian situation.

Brewster confirmed that he is working with Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., Republican leader on bipartisan foreign policy, on a modification of his amendment.

He added, however, that he is not satisfied with a proposed compromise which would make such

American action dependent on the imposition of sanctions by the Security Council.

He told a reporter that he "would be inclined" to insist on a vote on his amendment, rather than to accept this.

Four-Alarm Fire In Philadelphia

Half Million Dollar Fire In West Philadelphia Early This Morning

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—A four-alarm fire which caused $500,000 damage to a west Philadelphia pretzel-baking factory and spread to a paint warehouse was brought under control early today.

Firemen started returning to the station houses at approximately 4:30 a. m. after a desperate fight against oil-fed flames which started late last night.

The blaze wrecked the Hygrade Bakery Co. building and ignited the framework of the Finnaren & Haley Co., an adjacent structure containing highly inflammable paint products.

An employee of the bakery discovered the fire and turned in the first alarm at 10:19 a. m. The owner estimated damage to machinery and stock in excess of $500,000.

Flames leaped to the paint storage structure after two 1000-gallon vats of cooking oil caught fire on the second floor of the baking firm building.

Some 50 firemen were affected by the thick oily smoke and were treated by first aid men. Thousands of spectators rushed to the scene and extra police details were summoned to handle the crowds.

Peace Decision Seen Within Year By Ernest Bevin

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—British foreign minister Ernest Bevin declared Friday that the future peace of the world will be determined within the next year.

Bevin delivered a ringing speech on the North Atlantic Pact before members of the national press club. He said signing of the pact next week will be "one of the momentous occasions in world history."

The British statesman said the pact itself will bring together "the great productive capacity in skills of the world." Under it, he said, the member countries will form a common pool of the manpower their productive capacity, all that each can furnish.

Bevin said: "The organization will be the greatest contributing factor to world peace that has ever been known."

"We shall throw our resources together. It is fundamental that we will never become engaged in an act of aggression but to the would be aggressor we say, 'think twice! think twice!'"

Australia Slams Door On Filipino

Decision Final That They Will Not Let Filipino War Hero
Enter Australia

CANBERRA, April 2.—(INS)—Australia slammed the door today on Cpl. Lorenzo Gamboa, Filipino war hero in the U. S. Army, who wants to visit his wife and two children in Melbourne. Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley said that the government's decision to deny admission to Gamboa is "final."

Despite the personal intercession of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on behalf of the Gamboas, the soldier has been refused entry because of the "white Australia" policy. The Filipino soldier is currently serving with U. S. forces in Tokyo. His term of enlistment ends in June, at which time he had hoped to join his wife and children. Gamboa, who is a U. S. citizen, was originally discharged from service in 1945 in Australia. He was ordered out of the country nine months later, because he was an "Asiatic."

He re-enlisted recently.

MOME BUILT SPRAYERS AID WEED CONTROL

Several Lawrence county farmers built simple sprayers last year to control weeds. These sprayers use the low volume, low pressure method, applying from 5 to 10 gallons of spray per acre at 30 pounds pressure.

Chemical weed control will help to grow better crops, but cannot take the place of other good farming methods. Chemicals must be used with care—or damage may result.

The Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, has plans for simple easily built sprayers which can be placed on tractors. These plans give details which anyone can follow.

SHAMPOO, REPAIR, DRY YOUR RUG FOR SPRING

The family's spring budget cannot include the price of a new rug, then shampoo, repair, and dye the old one.

Remove any loose dirt from a rug with a vacuum cleaner or sweeper. This is easier on the rug than the old beating method. However, if there is no vacuum cleaner or sweeper, use a rattan beater. Metal beaters may cut threads and loosen the backing.

Before shampooing the rug, make sure the colors will not run. Then use a solution of one part mild soap flakes to three parts hot water, and beat this solution to a stiff lather. Experiment on an inconspicuous corner of the rug. If the rug is colorfast, then move to a wide floor space or a level place on the lawn for easier working conditions. Apply the lather with a coarse cloth or brush. Work on a small area and scrub in a circular motion with a cloth wrung from clear water. Repeat until all of the soap has been removed.

To avoid streaks, overlay on the previous places scrubbed. Brush the nap in one direction after the entire rug has been gone over. Remember to have the rug dry before brushing.

To dye the rug, have it thoroughly dry, and with a scrub brush or broom apply boiling dye to which has been added a half cup of salt. If the dye becomes cool, reheat it. A second coat may be applied after the first dyeing, when the rug is thoroughly dry.

Choose the color to harmonize with other room furnishings. Homemakers are reminded that the original color of the rug will influence the color of the rug when it is dyed.

POULTRYMEN AIM FOR UNI- FORM DEVELOPMENT

Breeding, rations, management, and health, four factors which determine rate of gains in growing chicks, are all given close attention by the successful poultryman. When all these factors are satisfactory the development of chicks or young turkeys is quite uniform. Otherwise, variations in weight and general condition result.

Overcrowding and poor ventilation are common faults which management can correct. Chickens throw off much of their waste body moisture through the air they exhale. Unusually dry houses can dehydrate the tissues of the birds. Some broiler growers report their birds make faster gains if the litter is slightly damp rather than extremely dry.

WASHINGTON CALLING

ent permitting himself a ray of hope.

There are younger men on this crowded stage. Gustav Rasmussen of Denmark and Lester Pearson of Canada are a generation behind Sforza. But they have had unprecedentedly early seasoning in the upheaval of the past 10 years.

The list is so long that the posters being put up outside the theater read like the roster of one of Hollywood's super-super-epics. Besides those entitled to individual billing are all the supernumeraries, the earnest spear-carriers waiting in the wings for that one moment when they will step into the limelight.

If, like the Victorian novelist, we could look behind the spoken lines and into the players' minds and hearts, we might be in for a shock. Their doubts, their fears, their occasional despair are not on display. This is a time to look forward bravely and hopefully no matter what the inward reservations. It is one of those ceremonial tableaux that punctuate history and, since hope springs eternal, it may even be something more than that.

adequate schools, health and welfare services.

Moreover, in the poorer states there are 50 per cent more children per 1,000 adults than in the richer states. So children in these poorer states don't have opportunities afforded most children in the richer states. Even in the richer states many schools are overcrowded and manned with poorly trained teachers and the welfare services are, in places, pitifully inadequate.

These and similar facts have been presented by the American Parents Committee Education Fund, Inc., 52 Vanderbilt avenue, New York City, and appear in the February issue of Parents' magazine.

GREAT INVENTORS

Russians are the greatest inventors the world has ever known. As Americans have already learned in announcements from Moscow, they invented the airplane, the radio, the electric light, the parachute and the transformer long before crude American imitators combined with predatory American capitalists to manufacture these items and make them available to the people of the world. It was not Benjamin Franklin, but a Russian, who discovered that lightning was electricity. It was still another Russian who discovered penicillin. And so on. The latest announcement, this time out of Leningrad, swells the list further. It has been generally supposed in this country that Alexander Graham Bell or Daniel Drawbaugh invented the telephone. But it seems the real inventor, years before either was born, was a Russian named Pavel Schilling.

(The first words spoken over the Schilling instrument, it may be surmised, were: "What hath' Marx wrought!")

But there can be little doubt that the Russians are the greatest inventors in the world. Didn't they invent all these stories?

OVERLAPPING FUNCTIONS

Eliminating overlapping functions between federal, state and local governments is a problem which, has drawn constructive recommendations by the Hoover Commission.

"We recommend," says the commission, "that the functions and activities of government be appraised to determine which can be most advantageously operated by the various levels of government."

"We recommend that our tax systems—national, state and local—be generally revised and that, in this revision, every possible effort be made to leave to the localities and the states adequate resources from which to raise revenue to meet the duties and responsibilities of local and state governments."

For 15 years there has been need of efforts along that line, and the need is growing greater. Local governments are being starved out by the inequitable arrangement. This is one of the fundamental problems of the country, and the Hoover Commission is to be commended for its action in emphasizing its importance.

TO CUT JOB ACCIDENTS IN HALF

President Truman's plea that accidents on the job be cut in half in three years is a reasonable request, but one that would take an extraordinary change in the frame of mind of individuals and management groups all over the country if it was to be achieved.

As the president indicates, the country is quite unreasonably suffering from more than two million job accidents a year. Most of these represent thoughtlessness, bad work habits, and lax supervision or inspection of safety equipment. It does no good to provide safety goggles if workmen don't use them. It does no good to pass safety laws if foremen and others make no conscious effort to observe them. It does little good for one man—even the president—to plead for safety, if he is not joined by thousands ready to practice what he preaches.

The fight against accidents, especially in industry, is one that could be won by such gigantic strides as the president asks for. But it will take a lot of cooperation and push.

"LOVELIEST OF TREES"

The name of Washington, the hatchet and the blossoming cherry tree will never be disassociated in American lore. Whether young Master Washington ever told a lie or not (who would put it past him that a cherry tree fell to his hatchet?) the tale as Parson Weems tells it will always be remembered.

And the District of Columbia's flowering ranks of Japanese cherry trees, blooming anew this spring, are being needed into comparable longevity by doses of a petal-saving hormone.

These trees have had a lively history. Two thousand of them were presented in 1909 by the people of Japan to the people of the United States. When fungus and insects made it necessary to destroy the first shipment in 1909, the situation had all the makings of an international incident.

But the Japanese dignitary who received the report from a nervous U. S. embassy official took the blow smilingly. "Oh," he said, "I believe your first President set the example of destroying cherry trees!"

Japan replaced her original gift of 2,000 with 3,000 more trees, all in the best of health. This confirmed the general American feeling that Japan was a nation of friendly flower-lovers, quaint but lovable. The feeling still prevailed, more or less, in 1938 during the "China incident," when Washington clubwomen shackled themselves to the trees to keep some of them from being uprooted to landscape the site of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial.

Washington's second hatchet incident came later. Three days after Pearl Harbor a few patriots gave vent to their changed feelings toward Japan by felling some of the bare-boughed trees. Now the hatchets are buried again, and the "Loveliest of trees, the cherry now, is hung with bloom along the bough" in the nation's capital.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The first major step by the western democracies to fortify the North Atlantic Defense Pact with economic ammunition has been taken by Great Britain and France. Acting under reported advice from the State Department in Washington, the governments of these two countries have cut the bottom out of vital exports to the satellite nations of Soviet Russia that are classed as potential war-making materials.

Included are graphite and mica, diamond-studded tools and drills, the apparatus of mine-sweeping devices, aircraft landing mats, specified non-ferrous metals and alloys, valves, high-speed compressors and the like.

Most Needed By Russia
An expert breakdown of the list already prohibited for export by Britain and soon to be seconded by France probably would show that the materials blacklisted comprise the things most needed by Russia and her neighbor nations in the equipment of their forces.

Under international regulations, it is entirely within the rights of any sovereign government to decide on its own just what items may or may not be sent abroad for profit or exchange.

Treaties governing such commerce traditionally have been written in general terms, leaving it to the discretion of respective boards of trade to decide what can be spared from home production and what might constitute a menace if transported into the hands of an alien and possibly enemy nation. The action of Britain and France stems directly from allegations that substantial portions of the European recovery contributions made possible by American generosity have found their way into the coffers, food-stores or arsenals of eastern Europe.

The British government denies—and France will deny as well—that any bi-lateral agreements reached in the past with nations under the Soviet yoke have been put to advantage in permitting such leakage.

Proof Of Detours
But their action to prevent further incursions upon Marshall Plan funds and resources is proof in itself that such detours have occurred. It serves to emphasize the importance in future international relations of the term "economic aggression."

The ninth Inter-American Conference held at the famed Quitandinha hotel in the high mountains above Rio de Janeiro set itself thanklessly to the task of defining just what this means.

Questions of financing fifth columns, propaganda in general, the simple use of economic prestige and the baser one of blackmail all were brought to the fore. But while they reached agreement in every other respect, the nations of the western hemisphere failed to reach collaboration on this one simply because the issue was too complex to begin with. Historians of modern times have grappled with scant success in their efforts to unveil the mysteries of economic and armament-making combines such as the Franco-German organization known as Schneider-Creusot, the financial empire of the late Sir Basil Zoroff and the Krupp organization of imperial and Hitlerite Germany.

Had Agents Everywhere
These great groups had their agents and their provocateurs everywhere. Nationality and citizenship means little or nothing; monetary gain through the diffusion of ill-will among peoples and nations was the prime concern.

The Rio de Janeiro conference strove without success to find a formula by which such activities could be identified and stamped for the records as aggression of a type less spectacular but no less deadly than the shooting of cannon and the bursting of bombs.

It seems clear that the latest Anglo-French measure of self-protection is the beginning of an east-west economic struggle that began in Berlin with imposition of the Soviet blockade and now seems destined to spread throughout the world.

Soviet protests and counter-measures are inevitable. Many of the restricted items are high on the priority list for industrial recovery of nations within the Russian sphere. But the foundation apparently has been laid for a determined allied attempt to ensure that if Stalinism is to arm itself for attacks upon the west, it must do so without democratic aid.

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PLIGHT OF AMERICAN CHILDREN
Out of America's 46 million children, 4 million do not attend school at all either because there are no schools or because of inadequate school attendance is enforced.

For many children there are only six months of school each year. In some school communities children have to attend in two shifts, even three shifts. The birth rate has risen rapidly in recent years. In 1951 school enrollment will be up 2,400,000 over 1948; in 1956, 3,000,000. In the next five years the much needed school construction would cost $6,800,000,000.

Babies Die Needlessly
Every year hundreds of thousands of mothers and babies die needlessly, though at least one-half of the maternal deaths and one-third of the infant deaths are preventable. Almost a quarter of a million mothers and babies have no medical care at childbirth and the first few days of life.

Three-quarters of our American children need dental care. Ten million have defective vision, four million defective hearing. Half a million have orthopedic and plastic defects, 175,000 tuberculosis. Annually, rheumatic fever and diseases of the heart cripple half a million children. Forty-five percent of the counties throughout the United States have no hospitals and a quarter of our children live in areas having no full-time public health service. Only one school unit out of four in the United States has a school lunch program.

At the present rate, one out of every 20 children in our nation is destined to be a patient in a mental institution. Though most mental difficulties begin in childhood, 25 states have no child guidance clinic. Full time clinical service for child guidance is provided in only 27 of our largest cities.

Single-Child
We have about 4 million children who are fatherless, motherless, or both. Yet six out of every ten of these children receive neither public assistance nor Social Security. The average monthly benefits for a family, in which a single child receives a benefit, is $13.10. One-half the children whose fathers died in 1946-47 did not qualify of this. Five out of six of all the counties throughout the United States have no full-time welfare workers. Over 2,000,000 boys and girls 14 to 17 years of age work part time or full time. Besides, many thousands of children under 14 work in agriculture. Forty of whom are attending school. Even federal laws protect only about a fifth of America's children against harmful employment in industries which ship goods across state lines. Annually about a quarter of a million children come before juvenile courts.

Among our states the different communities of each state there are great inequalities of education, health and welfare facilities. In the poorer states there is not enough wealth to bring in enough revenue from taxation to provide

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Emphasizes Focus Of Power In U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—In other times, often known as the good old days, spring and the cherry blossoms brought to Washington a crop of visitors from out in the country. The tourist duty in the White House, looked down for half an hour or so on the fulminations of the senate and went home satisfied that all was normal in Washington.

But this spring something new has been added. The drama has been intensified, stepped up a thousand times. A cast of star players from Europe is here.

This formidable cast is being assembled for the great signing of the pact. The presence of these European luminaries underscores the focus of power that burns so fiercely today on this once-rustic and simple capital.

Let's Take A Look
Let's take a look at the cast of characters. Even though he has no official part in the ceremony itself and will not even return to Washington to sign the Atlantic pact, the central figure is, nevertheless, Winston Churchill.

He is a solid chunk of history standing athwart our times. No casting director could hope to come up to the appropriateness of the part. The pink bulldog face, the big cigar, the hand upraised in benediction, the whole trademark of his personality is stamped on the years he has lived through.

No historian can ever hope to appraise his influence. It has been too all pervasive, too subtle and continuous. His enemies, and they are many and bitter, will say that he brought about our destruction if we are destroyed. His admirers, and they are far more numerous and articulate, will say that he saved us if we are saved.

In any drama coincidence has a part and particularly in the subplot. By coincidence, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin arrives while the great British star is on-stage in the full flight of a major speech.

Can Hold His Own
But in many respects Bevin, who comes from the opposite social and economic pole, can hold his own. He has a sturdy, massive quality that is both infuriating and reassuring. So much of his life has been spent driving hard bargains for a pence on the pound with determined employers.

The habit of tough bargaining is one that sticks. Bevin looks suspiciously out from behind spectacles.

Scamper Over Landscape
Tornadoes have a way of scampering playfully over the Oklahoma landscape each spring tearing up communities and disrupting life in general. And from each of these tornadoes always emerges a number of strange and bewildering stories to indicate that many of the laws of the elements have been broken.

There was a tornado in Snyder a few years ago which my informant watched from an observation point under a loaded grain truck. He saw a good portion of the town's east side whizz by. Wheat straws were driven deeply into telephone poles, houses were lifted from their foundations and set down somewhere else and sometimes the damage inside had been negligible. On the other hand the house door to that one might be splintered into kindling wood.

My informant tells me that there were a number of stories of incidents that he never checked and, therefore, could not vouch for. One, which persisted through three tornadoes, told of the rooster that had been blown into a jug and how it became necessary to break the jug to free the astonished fowl. I always doubted that one, until along came the story with photographic proof that a fourteen hundred pound cow had got into a silo through a door 17 by 25½ inches. Now, I am not so sure.

Oklahoma is an astonishing state in many ways and strange things befall some of its inhabitants. One of the strangest told is that of a farmer who found himself in the path of a tornado and was unable to escape it. He flattened himself on the ground and when the storm had passed he found his overalls gone and noted that the wind had also ripped off his shoes but had fitted another pair onto his feet. His complaint was that the second pair was a size too small and were unlaced.

From Me To You
By MESEALL

HERALDS OF SPRING
Just a shimmer of rain on the trunk of a tree;
Just a bird's nesting cry of calm tranquility—
Peace that came smiling through the window before me;
Panorama of Spring—life's true reality.

Just a cloak for a tree of budding stem and seed;
Just a carpet to tread of velvet green-tweed—
Harmony and freedom from fear of the future;
Immunity of cost—free bounty of nature.

Just a slight purple haze from the earth to the sky;
Just a bit of perfume from the earth's fresh supply—
Security for life, a lesson we must learn.
For the earth declares the glory of Spring's return.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1949, By The Baltimore Sun)

The Old Ditching Game

WASHINGTON, April 2. FOLLOWING his congressional reverses, various publicists and politicians recently proclaimed that Mr. Truman's prestige and popularity have shrunk to the place he occupied about a year ago, when they were regarded as nonexistent. There may be some truth in this, but it is significant that the most violent criticism and most virulent attacks come neither from Republicans nor from conservative Democrats, shocked at his paternalistic, not to say socialist, program, but from the same self-styled "liberals" who tried to sweep him up in a corner and strike at match at the convention last June.

THESE were the not too politically bright gentlemen, either affiliated with, or sympathetic toward, the so-called American Labor for Democratic Action and the CIO, who were out to draft Eisenhower, or Douglas or anybody other than Truman. After his nomination, most of these supported him with obvious reluctance and only because they had no alternative. Actually, their only contribution toward his success was in the sympathy aroused for Mr. Truman by the overdone public and private campaign of personal disparagement which they carried on for many months. That sympathy turned out to be one of his most valuable assets.

QUIESCENT for months, when Mr. Truman's current troubles developed and he appeared to be losing his grip on Congress, these heroic fellows rushed forward not to help but to hurt. They do not assail his program for the reason that it is composed of the same kind of three-thumbed economic and socialist monstrosities to which they were committed during the Roosevelt regime. But they again assail him as stupid, inadequate and inept. And they seize upon two of his appointments to prove his unfitness. It, of course, is true that Mr. Mon Wallgren should never have been named as head of the important National Resources and Security Board. It is also true that Mr. Louis F. Johnson, as Secretary of Defense, is a great step down from the able and nonpolitical James Forrestal. The first was just a lame-duck pal whom Mr. Truman wanted to have around. The second was an aggressive West Virginia politician who collected a lot of campaign money when it was badly needed.

HOWEVER, these self-proclaimed "liberals" had extremely little to say about Mr. Johnson until after he was appointed, though it was very widely known he would be. And they had nothing whatever to say about Mr. Wallgren until after he had been rejected. Nor was there any such word of credit given by the Wallgren critics to Senator Harry Byrd, whose firm and courageous attitude blocked his confirmation. It was typical that these anti-Truman "liberals" should accept as their own Senator Byrd's arguments against Mr. Wallgren while ignoring the fact that he had done the job. All of which makes seem well taken the point that the primary purpose of these "liberal" critics of Mr. Truman is not to help him be a better President or prevent him from making mistakes.

ON the contrary, their idea is to exploit his mistakes and keep making his job tougher all the time with the view of rendering him unavailable for renomination in 1952. To this end, every time his slips and he leaves himself exposed they lambast him all over the lot. The goal of this group of old Roosevelt New Dealers, they think, is to ditch Mr. Truman at the end of his term, name the Democratic candidate in the 1952 convention and thus, with the CIO, take complete charge of the Democratic party. Everybody knows that was their idea a year ago, when they failed to put it over. But they by no means have given up the idea.

THOUGH some of them are at work on it all the time, for various reasons they are not likely to succeed. One is because they are not smart enough; another because they are not big enough. Last time they unintelligently tried to do two impossible things—one to scare Mr. Truman out of the field; the other to draft General Eisenhower. They will not try either again. So far as Mr. Truman is concerned, they expect him voluntarily to retire and they want to insure this by doing what they can to make him sick of his job. So far as Eisenhower is concerned, they now realize two things they did not grasp in 1948—first, that the General is inherently a Republican and if available in 1952, it will be the Republican nomination he will want; second, under no circumstances would he be sufficiently compliant and conciliatory to the labor, racial and other special groups upon whom support the Democratic party now depends and with whom these anti-Truman "liberals" are dealing.

SUCH being the case, it is asked, where then do they go for a candidate? The answer is easy and obvious. They go, of course, to the always co-operative and receptive Mr. Justice William O. Douglas, who has had the presidential tilt in aggravated form for a long time. There is no doubt Douglas is their man. They infinitely prefer him to anyone else. Already the CIO has practically induced him in advance. There are a dozen "liberal" columnists and radio commentators who shout hallelujah every time his name is mentioned. He is compliant enough to suit all the special groups and would delight all the old Roosevelt "liberals" of whom he is one. But it is a little difficult to see why anyone else should vote for him. It is even difficult to see how he could be put over in a Democratic convention without very strong White House support, which he certainly will not get. Nonetheless, nearly all the bright boys who tried to ditch Mr. Truman a year ago are pinning their hopes on the eager Justice for the next try. And they do not think now is a bit too early to start work either.

THE LOST CHANCES
He thought he wanted money, so he every day was planned. To buy and sell for profit, but he couldn't understand. When he grew to be a rich man, why his wealth so little meant. He had all a fortune offers, but he still was not content.

He had faithful been to business and the code of business men. In their way he had succeeded, but he wondered, now and then. If his friends in humbler places who had served, without a fee, The needy and the helpless, were not happier than he.

BIBLE THOUGHT

A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked. For the arms of the wicked shall be broken; but the Lord upholdeth the righteous. The Lord knoweth the days of the upright; and their inheritance shall be forever.—Ps. 37:16,17,18.

Youth For Christ To Hear Missionary

Rev. William Hammond, Missionary To Bolivia, Will Speak On "Christ's Compassion"

An unusual opportunity will be afforded the New Castle Youth for Christ movement this evening when Rev. William Hammond, missionary to Bolivia, South America will speak on "Christ's Compassion—A Challenge to Christian Missions." The services, slated in First Baptist church, East at North streets, opens at 7:45 o'clock.

Rev. Hammond, formerly of this city, has served two terms in Bolivia and is aided by the First Baptist congregation. He will tell of his work in South America during the evening youth rally.

An excellent musical program has been arranged with Mrs. Harry Gettings and her three small sons taking part in that portion of the service. Rev. Earl Collins will direct the meeting with Miss Pearl Gibbons at the piano.

To Install Bible School Officers

Sunday morning the officers of the Bible school of the Alliance Gospel tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, will be installed by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Boon. The officers were elected during the session of the Bible school last Sunday morning.

The annual meeting of the church will take place this evening at 7:30 o'clock when Rev. D. C. Kopp, district superintendent, from Punksutawney will preside. The annual election of officers will take place with matters of important business to be transacted at the time.

U. P. Prayer Group To Gather Tuesday

Women of various United Presbyterian churches of this community will gather for prayer in Second church Tuesday morning, April 5, at 10:30 o'clock.

"World Missions" will be the assembly's theme. Mrs. R. J. Benson of Third church will serve as devotional leader, while prayer items will be given by Mrs. Irvine Ralph, of Highland church.

Will Open Mission Conference Sunday

Members of the Primitive Methodist church, South Mill street, will open their annual missionary conference Sunday in the church with two visiting speakers to be heard during the period, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. H. O. Fichter. The conference will conclude on Wednesday, April 6.

To be heard on Sunday, will be Miss Mary Rees missionary for the past 25 years to Belgian Congo, Africa. Miss Rees has undergone many thrilling experiences which she will relate during the conference. She is to be heard Sunday in the Bible school at 9:30, at 11 a. m., during the worship service and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Joining the party on Monday will be Rev. D. L. Cornell, field secretary of the Worldwide Evangelistic Crusade of Philadelphia. The meetings are open to the public.

St. Paul's Youth Will be Examined

Sunday morning a number of young people of St. Paul's Lutheran church, North Jefferson and Grant streets, will be publicly examined by the pastor, Rev. O. J. Warnath, as to their knowledge of Bible and the Catechism.

The following youth will be examined at 10:45 a. m.: Shirley Ruth Bender, Arlene J. Bodendorfer, Ruth B. Bodendorfer, Connie L. Frontis, Elaine C. Kieckman, Delores J. Lewis, Janet M. Pittaway and Elsie S. Salmen. If the class passes they will be confirmed on Palm Sunday morning.

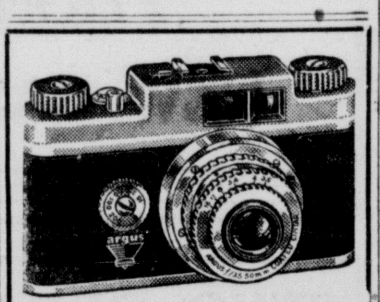

During the evening service in the church at 7:45 o'clock Rev. Edwin Prange, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Berea, O., will speak in a meeting sponsored by the Men's brotherhood of the church.

Rev. Hammond To Speak On Sunday

Rev. William Hammond, missionary to Bolivia who is supported by the First Baptist church, will be the visiting speaker in that church on Sunday at both morning and evening services.

During the worship period at 11 a. m. Rev. Hammond has chosen to speak on "Biblical Believers" while at 7:30 o'clock in the evening his theme will be "Biblical Byways." Rev. and Mrs. Hammond are residing in Philadelphia with their family while Mrs. Hammond is undergoing medical treatment.

Cathedral Chorus To Sing At First Methodist Church Sunday Evening

Dr. Joseph H. Lloyd, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, Youngstown, O., will speak on the subject, "Bearing the Burden of Brotherhood" this Sunday evening at 7:45 p. m. at First Methodist church.

The brethren of the Masonic fraternity, their families and their friends will gather to hear the Cathedral chorus of the New Castle consistory who will sing at this worship service. The chorus is directed by Sam Lewis and is accompanied by Ernel Branstetter.

This worship service will give the public an opportunity to hear the fine singing of this Cathedral chorus. The men in the chorus have been very busy at this time of the year singing in various cities throughout Western Pennsylvania.

Revival Continues Through Next Week

Revival services which started early this week in Croton Methodist church will continue throughout Sunday and next week, the pastor, Rev. Owen Shields, announces.

Rev. John Galbraith of Jamestown, N. Y., has been speaking to excellent audiences each evening with good responses being obtained during the evangelistic appeals. Rev. Cyril Smith of the City Mission is leading fine song services each evening at 7:30.

There will be a meeting each night except Saturday night.

Ohio Pastor Drives 600 Miles Weekly

Fostoria Minister Makes 54-Mile Daily Trip To Bowling Green While Pastoring Church

CLEVELAND, O., (INS)—Rev. Louis Gaspare of Fostoria, O., hasn't actually circled the globe, but his quest for knowledge has entailed travel equivalent to several times around the earth. What's more, Rev. Gaspare, at 36, still is at it, commuting more than 600 miles a week while seeking to achieve his goal of a doctorate in philosophy at Western Reserve university in Cleveland.

He was named pastor of Fostoria Baptist church in August, 1945. Since that time he has earned B. A., B. S. and M. A. degrees at Bowling Green State university and enrolled at Western Reserve early this month to attain his Ph.D. Drives to Cleveland Twice Weekly

On Mondays and Fridays Rev. Gaspare drives to Cleveland from Fostoria to attend classes. After an overnight stay he drives back to Fostoria. In between classes, he conducts regular Sunday church services, a Wednesday Bible meeting, and performs other ministerial duties.

Achieving things the hard way has been Rev. Mr. Gaspare's lot. Forced to leave high school at 17 to go to work, he did not decide to enter the ministry until 10 years ago. After graduation from a Chicago Bible school, he decided to finish high school and then enrolled at Bowling Green in March, 1945.

His appointment as Fostoria pastor forced him to travel 54 miles daily to and from Bowling Green, and by the time he had graduated cum laude from the university, he estimated he had traveled some 24,000 miles.

In Area Churches
Church Offerings Will Go To Support Of Spiritual Work Of Downtown Mission
Sunday has been designated as city wide Mission day in the churches of New Castle and immediate vicinity when special offerings will be lifted for the spiritual work of the City Rescue Mission, 17 South Mercer street.
Rev. Cyril A. Smith, superintendent of the Mission has requested as far as possible that the churches contribute one dollar per member of each church in order that the spiritual end of the work can be effectively carried out.
The mission serves as the downtown arm of the church where those who perhaps could not enter a church due to circumstances could come in and worship God. The funds will be used in the Sunday school and evangelistic work. More than 100 attend the mission Sunday school each Sunday and clothing for many of these is provided by the mission.
Calls for spiritual help are received at all hours of the day and night by Rev. and Mrs. Smith, who respond willingly to the calls. The drive is necessary in order that the devotional and spiritual program of the mission can be carried on in the coming days.
A report of the success of the campaign will be given later as to the response of the churches.

Hoover Commission Urges 30 Agencies Be Eliminated

By FELIX COTTEN
WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Hoover commission recommended Friday a sweeping program for reshuffling government business functions which would eliminate 30 of the 100 agencies thus engaged.

In its last regular report to Congress on government reorganization, the 12-man group said its program for the business agencies would save taxpayers "large sums" if put into effect.

It said the savings would result from consolidation of agencies, speed-up in liquidation of defunct activities, increases in interest or charges for services to cover expenses, and other improvements in organization and administration.

Totals 161 Billions
The government stake in corporations and other business enterprises was placed at the colossal sum of 164 billion dollars, broken down thus:

Investments in the enterprises, 26 billion; further commitments to supply 14 billion to them; guarantee of mortgages and deposits, 90 billion, and life insurance, 40 billion.

The commission, of which former President Hoover is chairman, assailed direct government loans now made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and four other agencies. It said:

"Direct lending by the government to persons or enterprises opens up dangerous possibilities of waste and favoritism to individuals or enterprises. It invites or even corruption."

Should Be Avoided
"Emergencies may arise in depression, war, national defense or disaster which must be met in this way. But direct lending should be absolutely avoided except for emergencies."

The commission disagreed with the proposal of its "task force" that the RFC be abolished. It said it should be reorganized to guarantee loans by commercial banks.

It by-passed recommendations on government power activities as a group. But Hoover and four other commissions made minority proposals on this subject. Among them were:

1. Congress should consider in each case whether advantageous long-term contracts could not be made for sale of power at government generating plants before authorizing construction of transmission lines.

2. Congress should establish "a national policy as to power rates in federal projects," and the federal power commission should determine rates in conformity therewith.

Acheson Takes Issue
Secretary of State Acheson and two other commissioners took issue with the proposals of the commission majority on direct loans and some other matters. They insisted that the group was going beyond reorganization and intruding into questions of policy.

The commission stressed conflicts, overlaps and disorganized differences in methods which it said existed among the government's far-flung business enterprises.

It proposed that the numerous government housing activities be placed in one agency under a single administrator, "who would have full authority over them."

The administrator, it said, should have supervision over the office of the housing expediter, which handles rent control.

Sweeping changes were proposed in farm agencies, including the liquidation of the farmers' home administration, one of the agencies engaged in making direct loans.

The group said the federal intermediate credit banks, the banks for cooperatives and the production credit corporations "should be consolidated into a single system."

It insisted that the merged system "should adopt the principle of mutualization" whereby borrowers would be required to purchase an amount of stock from the government with the granting of each loan. The required purchase would be a percentage of each loan until the stock was retired.

In place of the Farmers' Home Administration, the commission recommended a "modest government corporation" which would guarantee second mortgage loans up to $4,000. Both first and second mortgage loans would be made by the land banks.

The commission proposed a national system of mortgage discount banks to provide real estate mortgage discount facilities "for all private lending agencies over the entire real property field."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Games for the Toddlers

We all know that children, even under a year of age, like to play. The ages-old "peek-a-boo" is fun for each new crop of youngsters.

Pat-a-cake is another time-honored game that pleases youngsters just a bit older. Sometimes, however, many parents fail to realize that there are many other simple play activities which their two-and-three-year-olds can enjoy.

What fun these youngsters have when they are taught to make the noises of different animals. The "bow-wow" of the dog, the "meow" of the cat are probably among the first sounds they imitate. But there are many others to which they can be introduced. A little imagination and some simple coaching will add bells, airplanes, autos, bees and an almost endless numbers of other sounds to their vocabulary.

Rhythmic imitations of the way the dog rolls over, the milkman delivers his wares, the policeman swings his stick are also delightful experiences for the young child.

In addition to the fun that comes from these things, we can be pretty sure that they help in the growing understanding of the simple everyday things of life.

Other Scientists Ease Fears Of Atomic Destruction And World Starvation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 2.—(INS)—Two of the world's greatest scientists eased the fears of atomic destruction and world starvation, while a third blasted the "cultural barbarism" of Soviet Russia, on Friday.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, Sir Henry Tizard, and Prof. Sidney Hook spoke at panel discussions highlighting the second day of the mid-century convocation sponsored by Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Bush, atomic scientist and president of the Carnegie foundation, led off with the assurance that science can keep the world supplied in the race for food and raw materials.

Sir Henry, a British scientist, agreed that man has in the tools and research of science the means of saving himself from destruction.

Dr. Hook, a professor at New York University and outspoken critic of Russian participation in the recent cultural and peace conference in New York, said the Soviets have turned higher education into "cultural barbarism."

In the Soviet Union, Hook said, higher education has undergone a "grotesque transformation." He added:

"I have observed that it is just as easy to ensnare a distinguished scientist as any ordinary citizen into lending his name for exploitation by totalitarian front organizations."

NO SWIMMING

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—Two unwelcome guests tried to cool off in a swimming pool here and it took the humane society to get them out. They were a skunk and a rabbit who didn't stop to look before plunging; the pool was empty. The society hauled them out and set them free.

Legal minds have figured it out that baseball people probably will get together and establish a scale of wages for talent, end for all-time the stratospheric paydays now enjoyed by a few, and thus remove a lot of the glimmer from the glamour.

THANK YOU

We are extremely grateful to the better than four thousand persons who registered at the First Federal booth at the Lawrence County Home Show, and for their many kind expressions of good-will toward this "Pioneer Thrift and Home Financing Institution".

The interest manifested in home ownership and home financing was far beyond our expectations and we regret that on account of the density of the crowds attending the show our personnel was unable to give the time necessary to fully answer all your individual problems pertaining to home financing the First Federal way. However, we do invite you to call at our office any time for complete information on all types of home loans.

We are also pleased to announce our award winners. The lucky persons have all been notified by mail, and we also publish their names below:

Five Servants Tell How They Expect To Spend Kent's Money

Servants Shared Generously In Fortune Of The Late Atwater Kent

HOLLYWOOD, April 2.—(INS)—Five servants who shared generously in the will of the late A. Atwater Kent, inventor and pioneer radio manufacturer, told Friday how they plan to use the money he left them.

The servants sat in a group under an oil portrait of the man who came to California in retirement and gained new fame as the most lavish party-giver in a region famed for elaborate entertainment.

Alexander N. Milroy, the Scotch butler who had been with the multimillionaire for 16 years, expects to take his family to Edinburgh for a visit.

Milroy said his family will make the trip after the Kent mansion in nearby Bel-Air is closed at the end of this year.

He is the largest beneficiary of the household staff. Kent left him $5,000 a year from a $100,000 trust fund and willed him $10,000 outright.

Minne Frable, the cook who received $35,000 under the will, plans only a brief vacation, then a return to work.

The preference for work was echoed by Susan Rehili, parlor maid who inherited $22,000 and Bror Johnson, another Butler, who received $15,000. Fannie Saarinen, upstairs maid, was given $25,000.

JUST PALS

TEMPLE CITY, Cal.—Hustled off to jail after trying to settle an argument with a butcher knife and monkey wrench, James H. Mobley, 40, and Leonard A. Jasmin, 44 refused to sign complaints. Said they: "We're too good friends to do anything like that."

Prison System Bilks Motorists

CANON CITY, Colo.—(INS)—Convicts at the Colorado State penitentiary at Canon City played an unintentional practical joke on Denver motorists recently.

Denver Mayor Quigg Newton said he had received complaints from several hundred motorists that their new license plate numbers did not correspond with the ones they had last year, as the city's mail order system had promised.

An investigation showed that the prison distribution system had been mixing up the plates, and numbers in some cases did not match those stamped on the envelopes holding the license tags.

Boy Scouts Prepare For Easter Camp

Opening exercises of Boy Scout Troop XV4, were in charge of scoutmaster Bill Weitz, on Thursday evening, in the recreation room of Mahoning Methodist church.

At the business session, plans were made for a weiner roast, on Thursday evening, April 7. Money was brought in by scouts to cover their expenses of going to Easter Camp. Scouts that have not yet made arrangements to go to camp, may still do so by contacting scoutmaster Weitz, by next Wednesday. In the contest among the scout patrols, Pine Tree Patrol has 4,130 points to their credit, and the Eagles 3,200. Songs were introduced and sung by the patrol members.

Games were played under the supervision of the scoutmaster.

Brownie Scouts Work On Weaving Project

On Friday evening, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Thelma D'Amico, of Mt. Jackson road, Brownies Girl Scout Troop 52 met. The opening exercise was in charge of Miss Mary Louise Pitts, assistant leader.

The girls were then engaged in flower seed planting in paper cups. They also worked on their weaving project, led by Mrs. Dorothy Swoger and Mrs. Willa Pitzer.

Meeting closed with the Friend-shu Circle and the singing of "Taps." Next meeting Friday evening, April 15, with Mrs. D'Amico.

Mahgi Club Meets At Henderson Home

At the home of Mrs. Charles Henderson, of 231 Meyer avenue, members of the Mahgi Club were entertained on Wednesday evening.

Cards were the diversion of the evening. Those capturing the prizes were Mrs. Leonora Smolinski, Mrs. Ruth Soroka, and Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

Next meeting of the group is scheduled to meet with Mrs. Ruth Carpenter of West Cherry street, the latter part of April.

Killian Inaugurated Tenth President At M.I.T. Convocation

Colorful Ceremony Brings Three Day Mid-Century Convocation To An End

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 2.—(INS)—The mid-century convocation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology reached its climax today.

MIT's 3-day convocation, highlighted by the visit of British wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, ended with the colorful inauguration of Dr. James Killian, Jr., 45-year-old South Carolinian, as 10th president of the school.

Many Educators Present
The heads of some 200 universities and colleges all over the world took part in the final traditional ceremonies that brought to an end the three-day appraisal of scientific progress in the 20th century.

Dr. Killian, in his inaugural address, voiced opposition to Federal aid for privately-endowed educational institutions and in comment on the international situation which has had such marked attention at the meeting, he said:

"One of the greatest dangers of the present armed truce is the danger that it will force America to relinquish or distort or weaken some of its basic civil rights. We must hope that the cold war may not diminish the opportunity to be free—either on the part of the educational institution or on the part of the scholar himself."

Dr. Killian, as new president of MIT, succeeds Dr. Karl Compton, now chairman of the MIT corporation.

Paul's Store Now In New Location

Today Marks Opening Of Army And Navy Store At 30 West Washington Street

Today, Saturday, April 2, marks the opening of Paul's Army and Navy store in the new location at 30 West Washington street.

Coming to New Castle just a little over a year ago as Paul's Surplus store, serving the buying public by sales of army and navy surplus items at 121 West Washington street, the demand for the much larger headquarters arose, thus the new location.

In their new store, completely remodeled, with new stocks, they are prepared to present their old and new patrons with a large variety of merchandise and equipment to choose from. Every item of clothing, tents, tarpaulins, shoes and miscellaneous equipment is in stock.

Under the direction of Al Tuber and Paul Levine, the store is prepared to offer New Castle a leading business organization that is proud of its merchandise and facilities. The new establishment is under the management of Orle D. Kendall. The public is invited to make an inspection of the new premises and view the ample stocks of army and navy goods.

James E. Clark Dies On Friday

James E. Clark, husband of Myrtle Smith Clark of Youngstown, died in Youngstown Friday following an illness. Born October 30, 1879, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clark.

Surviving besides his wife are four children, George and Ernest Clark, Mrs. Leona Smith and Mrs. Edna McClelland, all of Youngstown. Several brothers and sisters reside in this city.

Funeral services will be conducted from the McColly funeral home in Youngstown Monday at 3 p.m. Friends will be received at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening.

Music Club Chorus Rehearsal Monday

Music club chorus will hold its weekly rehearsal Monday evening at the 7:30 in the YWCA. Miss Louise Grove, secretary of the chorus, has been highly encouraged with the large enrollment and attendance at past rehearsals and announces that new members will be welcome to join the chorus through Monday's rehearsal. Mrs. T. A. Grauel, chorus librarian, has copies of music available for all.

These weekly rehearsals are in preparation for the spring concert, which will feature a variety program of secular music to be given at the First Methodist church May 12 at 8:30 o'clock.

Everything But Murder Victim

CHICAGO, April 2.—(INS)—Chicago police believed today they had all the circumstantial evidence they needed for murder case.

They found a bullet-riddled four door sedan from which all license plates had been removed and they saw a trail of blood leading away from the parked car.

They said a person living nearby reported he heard nine shots fired. Now if the police could only find a victim —

Twelve Airmen Have Close Call

ROSWELL, N. M., April 2.—(INS)—Twelve crewmen of an Air Force B-29 bomber which fled on automatic pilot nearly two hours before crashing, were recovering from minor injuries today at Roswell.

The airmen, commanded by Capt. Ernest J. Saliba, of San Diego, Cal., hit the silk at 18,000 feet yesterday near Walker Airfield at Roswell, after the bomber developed engine trouble.

The pilot was about to attempt a landing at the Roswell base when one of the four engines dropped out.

The plane, based with the 22nd Bomber Group at Smoky Hill Air Force Base, Salina Kan., headed east toward Texas on automatic pilot.

The B-29 crashed in a sparsely settled ranching area south of the Rio Hondo River, 10 miles south of Roswell. No one was injured.

First U. P. Has Annual Election

Officers Of Congregation Named At Meeting On Friday Evening

Yearly congregational meeting of First U.P. church took place in the church Friday evening with moderator of session, Rev. Robert H. Mayo, presiding. After Rev. Mayo offered prayer, various reports were given.

John Loudon was elected as an elder, while B. French Johnson and Thomas Davis were re-elected to the same office after an absence of one year.

Wayne Guillery and James McGeorge were named as deacons. Mrs. Raymond Earl and Miss Mary E. Browne will serve as deaconesses.

Following the ecclesiastical period, J. Lee McPate, president of the trustees, presided when reports of projects of the church were given.

H. C. Dinsmore and Jay Rudolph were re-elected to the board of trustees.

A concentrated effort will be made by the congregation to liquidate their church debt by the first of June. A resolution was passed that no trustee should succeed himself in office, but may be re-elected after an absence of one year.

Rebekah Missionary society sponsored a tureen dinner preceding the assembly with R. F. Maxwell, newly-elected president, and her committee responsible for arrangements. At that time members of the two church basketball teams, introduced by Albert Genking, were presented with awards.

Syrian Coup Leader Annuls Parliament

Issued Decree After Unable To Form Constitutional Parliamentary Government

DAMASCUS, April 2.—(INS)—Col. Husni Zaim whose soldiers overthrew the Syrian government in a bloodless coup three days ago, today ordered the dissolution of parliament and the annulment of the constitution.

Col. Zaim issued the decree after he was unable to form a constitutional parliamentary government. In the same decree, Col. Zaim appointed a committee to draft a new constitution and electoral law.

Col. Zaim will direct the committee with the help of parliamentary undersecretaries and the supreme military council. Meanwhile, Iraqi Cabinet Minister Jalal Daban arrived in Damascus in a special plane and held a one hour meeting with Zaim.

Daban was believed to have been sent by the Iraqi premier to gain first-hand information on the coup.

Pryomanic Sets Fires In Boston

Fire Maniac Sets Fire To Three Back Bay Apartment Houses

BOSTON, April 2.—(INS)—A pyromaniac set fire to three Back Bay apartment houses Friday driving 60 persons to the street and endangering the lives of six who had to be rescued by firemen over ladders.

While fire apparatus was rushing to one three-alarm blaze the firebug touched off two more fires in the immediate vicinity.

One woman was taken to City hospital from the scene of the first fire suffering from smoke inhalation. It was at this fire that firemen had to rescue six people. Nine others made their own way to safety.

Fire Chief John F. McDonough has requested an investigation by the State Fire Marshal's office.

Airline Strikers Return To Work

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—The 250 flight radio operators of Pan American Airlines called off their strike today and returned to work after an agreement granting them a $30-a-month pay raise.

The strike, called yesterday morning, forced a cancellation of all trans-Atlantic flights. However, company officials said everything "is normal on both sides of the Atlantic this morning."

The strike resulted when negotiation broke down at the end of a 16-hour meeting.

The company attacked the strike as "featherbedding," and said that radio operators actually were not needed with modern equipment which broadcasts voices, instead of Morse code.

Scouts To Have Boxing Classes

Russ Baxter, local middleweight boxer, spoke to the regular meeting of scout troop 19 at the Highland church Thursday evening. Baxter's talk was so interesting that the boys did not want to leave at the usual dismissal time of 10 o'clock.

Baxter offered to teach the boys some of the fundamentals in the art of self defense and also offered to show the boys some first hand views of boxers while training at the Jefferson A. C.

Another interesting speaker at the Thursday meeting was Mendel Smith, local harnessmaker, who is giving the scouts a course in leather stitching and binding.

John C. Brinton, Jr., is the assistant scoutmaster of troop 18.

INJURED IN FALL

Big Truck Bill
Fate UncertainMeasure Passes House But
Action Of State Senate
Is Not IndicatedOTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—The "big truck" bill which proposes sizeable increases in the gross weights of tractor-trailer combinations threatens to embroil the legislature in a bitter dispute before final adjournment. The house-approved "big truck" legislation rumbled into the senate in a cloud of speculation whether the upper chamber would react as it did in 1947 and kill it or sanction the weight boosts despite the objections of the state department of highways. The railroad lobby also is opposed to the bill. There has been mention of damage done to highways by big trucks since the weight booster appeared. House minority leader Hiram G. Andrews of Cambria listened to pros and cons of the "big truck" debate and said: "We were made to believe that trucks in other states gently massage the roads but when they come into Pennsylvania they become destroying monsters." The legislation is in the senate highway committee headed by Sen. John G. Snowden (R) Lycoming. This is the same committee which killed a similar bill in 1947.

There is some doubt now whether the proposed salary boosts proposed in legislation now on Governor Duff's desk would limit the raise to commissioner John B. Conly of Pittsburgh. A constitutional provision prohibiting salary raises for executive office holders during incumbency may rule out increases for chairman John Siggins, Jr. and commissioners Henry Houck, Harold Scragg and B. Frank Morgall. Conly began a new term April 1 and thus incumbency will not be involved unless Duff delays signing the bill. It is considered significant that judges were given salary raises during the 1947 session although a similar limitation had been interpreted to involve the judiciary. The salary raiser was sponsored by senate majority leader John N. Walker (R) Allegheny. Conly's law partner.

Thousands of words stream from the capitol daily via Western Union from newsmen assigned to cover the legislature by various papers. Many nights, long after newsmen and press association reporters have closed their typewriters, the Western Union office at the capitol is open. On the job are Mrs. Dorothy Humphrey, Gale Fisher and Jim Donaldson. They handle the files for newspapers in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chester and Erie and it is past midnight when they finish. Press associations have private circuits connecting them with client newspapers throughout the state.

Senate majority leader John N. Walker (R) Allegheny, was insistent until recently that adjournment could be accomplished by April 1. Since it is apparent that the 1949 session will last about another month he tells newsmen he was "April fooling".

The conference committee named by the house and senate to iron out differences of a breakage provision for brewers in the beer tax was the first group appointed during the 1949 session. The conferees have the authority to revise the bill in its entirety, if need be, to reach an agreement. Traditionally, both houses are bound to accept the compromise. If conferees are unable to agree, a new committee is named. In congress, such conferees are called managers for reasons lost in antiquity.

Employ Handicapped
Essay Contest Open
To County StudentsPresidential Committee And Three National Organizations
Are Sponsors

Any high school boy or girl in the eleventh or twelfth grade of the 11 high schools in Lawrence county is eligible to participate in the National Employ the Physically Handicapped essay contest, it is announced.

Five trips to Washington, D. C. and $2,000 in cash prizes are to be awarded on a national basis by the sponsoring groups. It is anticipated by local officials that appealing financial awards will be made on a county basis. The national prize money is being offered by the Disabled American Veterans and the International Association of Machinists.

Nationally the contest is being sponsored by three organizations in cooperation with the President's committee for NEPH Week. These are the National Education Association of Secondary School Principals and I.A.M.

Committee Meets
Rules for the contest were discussed at a meeting of the local NEPH committee at the state employment office Thursday afternoon.

Chairman Wesley Davy presided. Other present included George Barna of the Veterans Administration, C. B. Book, principal of New Castle Senior High, John C. Sylling, county superintendent of schools, Floyd R. Derr, secretary of I.A.M. Local 166, Arsen F. Armond, president of United Engineering local of the I.A.M. J. F. McCague, bureau of rehabilitation in Pittsburgh, and three representatives from the local state employment office, George Gettings, manager, Ralph Jordan and Jerome Daugherty.

As pointed out by Mr. Gettings and Mr. Daugherty, the essay is to be an original composition of 1,200 words or less answering the challenge in the title—"Why Not Hire the Handicapped." Essays should be written in a positive and interesting manner, citing reasons why the weight of evidence is so much in favor of hiring the handicapped. Handicapped people can work and are not asking to be hired out of sympathy.

Closing Date April 30
The final typewritten copy is to be turned over to the student's English teacher by April 30. Sources of information on the subject and complete contest rules will be available in all high schools. Only the winning essay from Lawrence County will be entered in the state contest. The local NEPH committee will meet again Friday afternoon, April 7, at two o'clock in the state employment office. Judges, local prizes and other contest problems will be ironed out at that time.

Gen. MacArthur Is Silent On Plan

TOKYO, April 2.—(INS)—General MacArthur made no immediate comment today on Harold Stassen's proposal for a billion dollar a year "MacArthur plan" to check communism in Asia.

Gen. MacArthur remained mum seven hours after receiving inquiries from International News Service asking him to comment on Stassen's plan.

The chief of the occupation of Japan did not even say "no comment".

Mr. Lawrence County Citizen

Our friends, the Railroads of Pennsylvania have had a fine reign as masters of transportation until the last few years. However, just as the oxen had to go when the locomotives came, now the rails are being pressed. Trucks bring you several days closer than rail, as in the future planes will out-mode trucks. We know this, but it seems just natural to us. Things do change. Someone should let the rails know we have entered the age of Atomic Energy.

Let Us Consider This Damaging
Piece Of Legislation, Bill No. 560

The half truths as claimed are sort of silly. The facts are, the tandem semi-trailer is not recognized by our motor code at present. However, a tandem axle truck is legal, permitting it to carry the same weights as asked for by this bill now being considered. Under present restrictions, the single axle semi-trailer and the tandem axle semi-trailer are both in the same gross weight group. The chief merit of the tandem axle semi-trailer is the fact that it has double the braking power and double the carrying capacity with tires. However, legalizing this unit barely means an increase in carrying capacity of one third.

This special law for 1% of all motor vehicle users sounds odd. We'll take them at their word, but 40% of the state's highway revenue comes from this same 1%. We believe they pay their way.

The Turnpike is used extensively by trucks. Are they doing the damage to this road? I believe you will find that frost is the greatest cause of our road failures. We believe that the rails do have a place in our way of life, but we also believe that Stalin should be allowed to breathe but not talk so much. He also has red herrings.

But Now Mr. Motorist Referring To The Red Herring

Do our friends, the Railroads, tell you of the hazards of motoring created by the Railroads of Pennsylvania? The crossings with sink holes; the crossings with humps; the crossings with rail slivers; the crossings with two levels; the crossings that are slippery when wet; the crossings that are unlighted; the crossings blocked for ten to thirty minutes; the crossings with shifters working; the crossings that should have crosses; the trains which the Brotherhoods claim are not manned as they should be. Funny how a crowd gets so good they learn everyone's business better than their own. If they knew their own, the above conditions need not exist and who knows better than you, Mr. Motorist, that these conditions exist.

THIS BILL WILL

- A—Decrease Highway Damage.
  1. Better cushion from more tires.
- B—Decrease traffic accidents and loss of life.
  1. Less traffic by fewer vehicles.
  2. Better brakes because of extra axle.
- C—Cause no increase in Taxes.
  1. No subsidy.

Hence, we submit what we contend to be the truth, unvarnished.

New Fire Hall At North Beaver Will Serve Dual PurposeApproximately $25,000 Will Be Spent In Construction Of Fire
Hall, Community Center

Ambition and hard work will be turned reality in a short time when construction is started on the combination $25,000 fire hall and community building in North Beaver township.

With final plans approved for the structure interest has grown more keen in the project which has been fostered by the Volunteer Fire Department of the township and numerous other civic minded individuals who have looked forward to the day when the green light would be given for the start of actual construction of the building.

Eckles Company, architects, have completed the drawing of the 40x80 structure and full approval of the plans were given at the last meeting of the department on Thursday evening at Mt. Jackson. The impressive new building is to be a one story Colonial type structure with a full basement where community activities such as meetings of the civic organizations and other groups may be held from time to time.

Site Is Selected
The site chosen for the new fire hall is just south of Mt. Jackson east of the Battery B monument and adjacent to the new Jackson Knolls project. The truck at present is being housed in the Kuhn garage just a short distance away from the proposed new building site.

North Beaver's Volunteer Fire Department has a truck which can carry the largest water capacity of any in the county. Tanks on the truck have a total capacity of 670 gallons. In addition, the company has two new portable pumps which can be used to get water to a fire 1500 feet away.

Roster of the North Beaver Fire Department stands at 80 at the present time. Arthur F. Seaser is president of the organization and William Kildoo is president. The men are making extensive plans for a fair and carnival in August to realize additional funds for use in their building program.

They have been deeply appreciative to all who have contributed to their work and building program plan to continue their fund raising campaign in the future. C. Blaine Farver is chairman of the finance committee and will be happy to receive contributions.

Stassen Urges Aid For China

Annual Billion Dollar "MacArthur Plan" For China Is Suggested

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 2—(INS)—The mid-century convocation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology reached its climax today following an appeal by Harold E. Stassen for an annual billion dollar "MacArthur plan" to check communism in Asia.

The three-day convocation, highlighted by the visit of war-time British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, will be terminated with a colorful inauguration of Dr. James Rhyne Kilian, Jr., 45-year-old South Carolinian, as the 10th president of MIT.

Heads of more than 200 universities and colleges all over the world will take part in the final traditional ceremonies which will terminate the three-day appraisal of scientific progress in the 20th century.

They will hear Dr. Kilian deliver an address on the ideals of an institute of technology.

Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, makes his plea for more aid to China and Asia when he took the rostrum last night as the principal speaker.

The former candidate for the Republican presidential nomination urged establishment of "an American MacArthur plan" for Asia, similar to the Marshall plan in Europe.

Stassen insisted the United States "should move and move promptly, to bolster the southern half of China" against the spread of communism.

He urged the spending of a minimum of one billion dollars a year toward this end.

Norwegians Revive Ships' Figureheads

WASHINGTON, (INS)—Are ships' figureheads coming back? Yes, says the National Geographic Society. It notes that Norwegian shipbuilders are putting heroic-sized prow figures on their streamlined motor freighters.

The trend began 12 years ago, when a barefoot goddess in flowing robes and an armored cavalier were fashioned for two sleek cargo ships. Now, from the bow of one of the northern kingdom's newest ships, a ten-foot Spanish conquistador scans the seas.

First Aid Classes For Union Township Firemen

To better aid in prevention of destruction to life and property in Union township, the Volunteer Fire department of the township is conducting First Aid classes under the critical eyes of two Red Cross instructors. Shown here is a picture of the class in operation with the instructors, Lawrence Hemmingsway (1st-left) and L. W. Campbell (2nd-right), conducting a lesson on applying a leg splint. The men are: (left to right) Mr. Hemmingsway, Jerry Ammons (chief of the department), Mike Schmidt, Paul Shannon, Everett Cumberledge, Mr. Campbell and Earl Ammons. The victim is Jack Jones.

Movie Oscars Will Be Awarded In 1949

Despite Movie Producer's Refusal To Finance, Oscars Will Be Awarded

HOLLYWOOD, April 2—(INS)—Moviedom's Oscars will continue to glitter whether or not major studios help cast the golden statuettes.

Academy Awards for 1949 film achievements will be made next year as they have for 21 years in the past.

The Board of Governors of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, sponsor of the annual event, made that announcement Friday.

The statement came in reply to the declaration by five major studio heads in New York that they no longer would help finance the annual presentation ceremonies.

Moreover, filmdom's journeyman, as represented by the academy, "blew down" the extent of studio support and lauded the vision and leadership of Actor Jean Hersholt, retiring president.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 2—Take a tip from Fred MacMurray. Loafing can become pretty dull.

It can be so monotonous, in fact, that Fred is stepping up his own work schedule after giving the life of comparative ease a brief pitch. The handsome husky star reached a decision a year ago to toil less and play more. He had averaged nearly five flickers a semester over a 10-year span and figured it was time he put on the brakes a bit.

He feared that it might be getting later than he realized.

Bored To Death

So Fred, who gets his kicks from hunting and fishing, decided that in the future he would make only two pictures a year. That was to be absolutely tops. The rest of the time would be spent at his favorite sports.

"Last year," he said, "I worked only a total of 14 weeks—and I had so much time on my hands I was bored stiff. I even got tired of hunting and fishing, and when I got fed up with these things something must be whacky."

"I just couldn't adjust myself to doing nothing for 38 weeks when, for years, I had worked that many."

Football Coach

In MacMurray's current assignment at 20th Century-Fox, "Father Was a Fullback," he portrays a football coach who is in hot water with the alumni. The job will keep him well occupied until May.

Then, after a month or six weeks off with his wife and kids at his 1,500-acre ranch in northern California, he will go into another picture. He added:

"I'm trying to work out a schedule that will give me enough time between pictures for a fishing and hunting trip but not so much that I'll run the risk of getting completely bored again."

"If I can keep busy at least half the year, with the work and vacation periods well regulated, I'll have what I consider an ideal arrangement."

Expert Says Birds Migrate For Food

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(INS)—Dean Amadon of the American Museum of Natural History says that experiments show the migratory paths of birds are not memorized.

In a radio talk on the General Electric Science Forum program, Amadon points out that birds, carried long distances under anesthesia or in a covered and rotating box, have returned home.

He said that probably all migratory patterns result from the tendency of birds to search for food. He added that birds migrate from northern regions to escape cold and privation, while southern species travel in response to wet and dry seasons.

Franco Tells Spain He Won't Desert Post

Observers Declare Self-Confident Speech Means Franco Will Get American Loan

MADRID, April 2.—(INS)—Gen. Francisco Franco has told Spaniards "I will never desert my post" in a self-confident speech which observers said means the Spanish leader may soon procure an American loan.

Franco confirmed reports of increasing left-wing terrorism in Spain, claiming the agents were sent in by Moscow.

The Spanish leaders' assertion that he has no intention of stepping down was interpreted in Madrid circles to mean that he is on the verge of completing negotiations for a 200 million dollar U. S. credit.

Informed sources said that under terms of the projected agreement, Spain would be given 20 years to make good on the credit, which would entitle the country to railway material, fertilizers and raw materials.

Franco spoke on the eve of the 10th anniversary of the end of the Spanish civil war. Observers noted that he made no direct reference to the possibility of a monarchist restoration, but said merely he would "fulfill his duty to the people, who had voted for the succession law, making the state a kingdom."

Monarchist groups have maintained that Franco has fixed a tentative date for the restoration of Prince Don Juan, pretender to the throne.

Twenty-Nine Arrests Of Trucks Overweight Made In Three Months

Twenty-nine arrests have resulted from overweight trucks during the first three months of 1949, according to a report of the state police today. One truck was found to have carried 79,395 pounds which the law permitted only 45,000, the police stated.

The record of arrests follows: January, 11 arrests, fines $500; largest weight, 75,213 pounds; permissible, 65,000 pounds.

February, three arrests, fines $125; largest weight, 55,570; permissible weight, 45,000.

March, 15 arrests, fines $650; largest weight, 79,395 pounds, permissible weight, 45,000.

According to the state police a truck must not be loaded except in conformity to a certificate of the manufacturers as to the chassis weight.

Gov. Dewey Vetoes Offtrack Betting

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—(INS)—The possibility of legalizing off-track gambling in New York state vanished Friday following Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's veto of a bill calling for a study of the question. The measure, which was approved in the closing hours of the session, provided for a nine-member legislative commission to investigate the feasibility of instituting state approved "horse rooms."

The amount of added revenue to be gained through legalizing off-track pari-mutuel betting, which has been estimated as high as $100,000,000 a year, also was to be studied by the commission.

Schlaflin reportedly told police he wanted the things for his own home which is still in the "dream" stage.

Up to this point, the scenario has had lots of fast action but little romance. Now enters romance, in the person of Robert Justus Kleberg, a young lawyer whom Henrietta King hired to manage the ranch and her tangled affairs.

KING RANCH, Kingsville, Tex., April 2.—The true story of the King Ranch, in technicolor, would make every other western ever filmed by Hollywood look like a plugged nickel in Cartier's.

This is the horse opera with everything, including Assault in the back yard. Its ingredients run the gamut from high adventure to Mexican bandits to true romance. Its cast of characters embraces Robert E. Lee and Jesse James, with Gen. Zachary Taylor and Pancho Villa tossed in for good measure.

The script should begin with Richard King, a jeweler's apprentice, running away from Orange county, N. Y., to go to sea more than a century ago.

Supplied Troops
During the Mexican war, King supplied General Taylor's troops by running the Rio Grande in his steam boat. Captain King saved his money and about a half dozen years before the beginning of the war between the states, he bought 54,000 acres along Santa Gertrudis creek on the recommendation of his close friend, Robert E. Lee, then a lieutenant colonel of engineers stationed in Texas.

Those 54,000 acres are the cornerstone of a ranch that has now swelled to more than 950,000 acres. It is also the heart of the Santa Gertrudis division or main headquarters of the King Ranch.

When the Civil War engulfed the nation in 1861, the small cattle business to which Captain King had set his hand, thrived mightily. He supplied the Confederate forces with cattle and horses, the ranch still firmly rests. And he picked up still more money by running the Union blockade with his steamships laden with the cotton so badly needed by English mills.

As the captain's fortune grew, so did the ranch. By the time he died in 1885, King had acquired 500,000 acres. But he had also acquired a debt of $500,000. Both the land and the debt were inherited by his widow, Henrietta.

Loaf of Fast Action
Up to this point, the scenario has had lots of fast action but little romance. Now enters romance, in the person of Robert Justus Kleberg, a young lawyer whom Henrietta King hired to manage the ranch and her tangled affairs.

• Captain King, a good judge of men, would have approved his widow's choice, for he had first introduced Kleberg to the family after the young lawyer had won a suit against King. The captain, a man of action, had forthwith fired his own lawyer and hired Kleberg. It was inevitable that Kleberg should marry the youngest King daughter, Alice, a few years after her father's death.

Kleberg turned out to be as brilliant a cattleman as a lawyer. He put the ranch on a firm foundation.

He drilled the first artesian wells in south Texas, to water the cattle he imported from England.

Backed by his mother-in-law, a remarkable woman who lived to be 92, he built the big, $350,000 main house at Santa Gertrudis, with its great window of Tiffany glass and its thick walls designed to keep out the heat and bandits from south of the border.

In 1916, when Pancho Villa and his raiders were harassing the border, Henrietta King—then 81—called in the help and prepared for attack. The indomitable old lady handed out guns and prepared to command the battle.

Raiders Never Got That Far
However, the raiders never got as far north as the Santa Gertrudis division. They attacked, instead, the Norias division in the south, and killed one King employee.

Another employee was kidnapped by the raiders. And here the script can use a little comedy relief, based on hard fact. The bandits were addicted to peanuts, and the King cowboys had only to trace the peanut shells in order to follow the raiders and release their co-worker.

When Robert Kleberg Sr. died in 1932, his son, Robert, Jr., was ready to take over the management of the huge ranch.

A good horse opera ought to wind up on a note of romance. And the King Ranch can supply that, too. Helenita Kleberg, the pretty, blonde daughter of the Bob Klebergs, is to be married on April 16 to Dr. Deaver Alexander.

The wedding itself is to be a quiet affair. But in deference to the Mexican-American vaqueros and laborers who have worked on the ranch from generation to generation, the Klebergs have declared a three-day fiesta. There will be music, dancing and feasting for all.

This should make a smash ending for this authentic western, with everyone riding off into the sunset under an arch of twirling lariats.

Wing Of Portales School Destroyed

An Explosion Just Before 35 Children Would Have Been In Classes

PORTALES, N. M., April 2.—(INS)—An explosion in the Central grade school at Portales Friday just an hour before 35 children would have trooped in for classes, destroyed the east wing of the building and critically injured two persons.

Trapped by the blast were Mrs. A. P. Watson, 41, a teacher, and the janitor, J. E. Singleton.

Accumulated gas under the floor was blamed for the explosion, which tore out all the windows of the building, blew the roof completely off and wrecked the entire east wing.

Mrs. Watson suffered spinal injuries and severe bruise cuts. She was rushed to the Memorial hospital in Clovis after firemen extracted her from the splintered mass of wreckage.

Singleton was taken to Lehman hospital in Portales suffering from a crushed chest and internal injuries.

DUFF ASKS SUPPORT OF ARMY'S DRIVE

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—James H. Duff Friday hailed the Salvation Army's "never-ending crusade against sin, poverty and misery" and asked Pennsylvania to support its fur drives.

The statement came as the "Army" officially opened its Greater Philadelphia Maintenance Fund Campaign.

THE TRUTH IS EASY TO GET, CHECK THE PRESENT MOTOR CODE

In a desperate effort to impede transportation progress by a policy of confusion, opponents of House Bill 560 would have you believe the motor truck industry is asking for road cracking weight limits.

The best source of information is the present motor code. It says that a three axle truck and full trailer may carry a gross weight of 62,000 pounds. This has been the law for years.

Engineers have found after study and experimentation that a tandem axle semi-trailer can carry a load safer, and with less highway impact. Hence HB 560 asks that tandem axle equipment be permitted to carry a gross weight of 60,000 pounds, which is one ton less than the load now permitted. There are a few minor weight adjustments in smaller trucks asked. Drastic penalties for overloading are included in the new bill.

The House of Representatives has wisely passed the bill by a vote of 114 to 88. It is now up to the State Senate. We have confidence that our Senators will not be stampeded by last minute hysteria and baseless charges.

Cooking School Will Be Sponsored Jointly By Gas Company And Local Appliance Stores

Modern cooking methods will be demonstrated to women of New Castle and Lawrence County on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 6, 7 and 8 in the Cathedral building, when two expert home economics representatives of the local gas company will be present to demonstrate better ways in which to cook a meal.

The free shows, sponsored by 15 local appliance dealers in conjunction with the Manufacturer's Light and Heat company will be conducted from 2 to 4 p. m. each day of the show. Miss E. Grace Lance and Miss Alice Lehan, home service directors of the gas company, will be present to demonstrate the latest in good cooking techniques.

Features of various ranges, including clock controlled meals, economy in preparation and other ideas will be broached during the three day afternoon sessions. Valuable prizes, including three fine gas ranges will be presented to the ladies holding the winning tickets.

Two Farm Meetings Set For Tuesday

Erosion Control Using Rye Grass, And Managed Milking Demonstration Planned

Two farm meetings have been arranged for Tuesday under the auspices of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association for the benefit of Lawrence county farmers.

At 10 a. m. Tuesday there will be a meeting at the N. E. Sampson farm, one mile north of Fayette, in Wilmington township, where the use of rye grass in erosion control work will be demonstrated.

At 1:30 o'clock at the Chadwick Dean farm, one mile north of Princeton, a managed milking demonstration will be conducted by I. E. Parkin, dairy extension specialist of Penn State college.

Mr. Parkin will show better methods in the use of the milking machine to get more milk and avoid injury to the cows.

MAN BREAKS LEG IN FALL FROM SCAFFOLD

George R. Randall, aged 64 years, of the Leslie Hotel, suffered a fracture of the left thigh bone, when he fell from a scaffold Friday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock. He was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was admitted for treatment.

Mr. Randall was engaged in doing some plastering work at 306 North Beaver street, when he was injured.

Former Silent Movie Actress Is Suicide

TOLEDO, O., April 2 (INS)—Corynn Paul Hohly returned a suicide verdict in the death of Mrs. Mary Epstein, 57, former silent movie star, who died in an iron lung in Toledo's Maumee hospital of an overdose of Codeine.

Mrs. Epstein, who used the screen name of Leona Hutton, died 18 hours after her husband found her unconscious in their home yesterday.

She had been confined to her home for 10 weeks because of a leg fracture.

Before going to Hollywood in 1913 she played with stock companies using the name of Jayne Whitman.

In the 11 years she spent making silent movies she co-starred with William S. Hart, Bill Russell and Charlie Ray.

Recruiting Station To Have Open House On Army Day, April 6

On Army Day, April 6, the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, located on the fourth floor of the Frew building, Washington and Jefferson street, New Castle, will hold "open house" for the public it was announced today by Captain Charles E. Weddle, commanding officer.

Captain Weddle urged all citizens to visit the local station and familiarize themselves with the work of the Army. Trained personnel will be on hand to conduct tours thru the Recruiting Station and answer questions concerning the Army and Air Force.

Veterans holding proper discharges may pick up medals that they are entitled to anytime during the day, Captain Weddle stated.

NO LARGE TAX PAYMENTS. Lewis W. McClurg, earned income tax receiver today stated that no large payment of withholding tax from employers has been received. He anticipates they will not arrive at his East street office until around April 10.

Philadelphia Pretzel Plant Burns

PHILADELPHIA:—As a four alarm fire rages out of control this morning in the plant of the Hygrade Bakery in West Philadelphia, largest manufacturers of pretzels and potato chips in the country. Flames swept to an adjoining paint plant, damage was estimated at about $500,000.

Youngsters Admit Starting Of Fire

MONESSEN, Pa., April 2 (INS)—Two small boys "playing with fire" were blamed today for the $200,000 fire in Monessen that destroyed the Krasik Furniture Store.

State Police Cpl. Arthur Woods said that a five-year-old boy admitted he, and an eight-year-old playmate, had lighted a match to a pile of rubbish in back of the store. Woods said it was up to juvenile authorities whether any action would be taken against the children.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

WEATHER permitting, the Lawrence County Sportsman's association, and, in fact, also anyone who cares to, will shoot and trapshoot between 2 p. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday, at the LCSA farm, near Harbor Bridge. . . . Youngstown Athletics open spring training at Moultrie, Ga., Wednesday and club officials hope to come from the Southland with the city's best post-war Mid-Atlantic league club. They are a farm team of the Philadelphia A's. Eddie Morgan is the Y-A's pilot. . . . Artie Levine and Dick Wagner (who stopped Billy Fox) are free-swimmers who box in Cleveland, April 11. . . . And now that Bobby Neal has been taken over by Otis Graham, there may be a better chance of his fighting here against Frankie Moran, when Moran's left arm is in punching condition. . . . A-hem! Here's Shelton Bell in action again. He's going to fight Hilton Fitzpatrick at Huntington, W. Va., April 18. . . . Bill Holland, Tommy Hinneshirt, Spider Webb, Lee Wallard and Walt Brown, five Indianapolis race drivers, will compete in the inaugural of big car auto racing at Reading, tomorrow.

S' too bad that Rizeri Ronzi sustained injury in losing by a T-kayo to O'Dell Riley at Akron, several nights ago. Ronzi is supposed to be here this afternoon to undergo a physical check-up. From the examination will come a decision as to whether his injuries will have healed in time to allow him to box Billy Pozza in The Arena, April 13. Providing his injuries are such that will prevent this, the Jefferson A. C. should endeavor to bring on Jackie Thompson of Detroit, for a rematch with Pozza. They staged a thriller at Ellwood City, and a repeat number might be a repetition of their quondam fight. . . . Veteran Boxers association of Mercer county will meet Sunday evening in Farrell where motion photos of the Willard-Dempsey fight in 1919, will be displayed. . . . California Boxing commission next week will investigate the ring death of Billy Cornwell who died after being knocked out by Tote Martinez at San Antonio. His death was attributed to cerebral hemorrhage. His head struck and bounced from the floor. An inquiry as to the thickness of the padding of the ring will be conducted. Standard requires a thickness of two inches. The chief of police said he examined the padding and found only one inch thickness. It was the fourth boxing fatality in the nation this year.

Ashley and Kane won regional championships of the PIAA Class B basketball play-offs at Harrisburg, which should set well, insofar as Ashley is concerned, to John Gibbons, former Luzerne county resident, now with the Steam plant at West Pittsburg. . . . April 4 to 10 is Conservation week in Pennsylvania. . . . Deer hunting trials are being run today by Shenango Beagles. . . . Wampum-Ellwood City transmitters are busy this afternoon at the traps. . . . Geneva will meet Westminster at home in track, May 5. . . . Beaver Falls legion floor team was defeated by Moorhead, Minn., in the opening round, 40-37. . . . Monday night at Ben Franklin Junior High gymnasium scores of 12-18 year-old youths will receive their third free lesson in fly-tying, casting and other phases of Outdoor life. . . . Adolf Rupp, coach of Kentucky's NCAA champion basketball team, will continue as coach. He refused three pro' offers. . . . York and Alliquippa meet tonight in Philadelphia, for the PIAA Class A championship. . . . WPAAL Baseball circuit opens April 11. The loop contains Alliquippa, Ambridge, Beaver Falls, Farrell, and Sharon. New Castle High is not represented in the schoolboy, national pastime. One hundred and eighteen schools will compete for the title won by Vandergift last year.

Tourney Finals At Beaver Falls

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 2—(INS)—West and Midwest teams remained today in the semi-finals as the last Eastern and Southern teams were eliminated from the National American Legion basketball tournament in Beaver Falls.

In the quarter-finals yesterday Richmond, Ky., downed Tecumseh, Okla., 40-36, and Kankakee, Ill., beat Portsmouth, O., 49-46.

Greenwood, Ind., defeated Red Lion, Pa., 49-39, and McPherson, Kan., edged Casselton, N.D., 46-30.

In the semi-finals this afternoon,

McPherson meets Greenwood, and Richmond tackles Kankakee. The winners will spar tonight for the championship crown.

BROAD JUMP MARK BROKEN BY BROWN

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—(INS)—George Brown of Jordan High school, Los Angeles, holds a new national inter-scholastic broad jump record today with a leap of 25 feet, 2½ inches.

The jump yesterday bettered the record of 24 feet, 11¼ inches set by Jesse Owens for East Tech High in Cleveland in 1933.

Brown's coach predicted that the youth would do 26 feet before the end of the season.

Aliquippa And York Battle For State Title Tonight

Indians Favored To Pluck Roses

Kid Gavilan Wins Impressive Decision Over Ike Williams

Tonight's big event in Philadelphia is no flower show but if Aliquippa High is up to form the result may well be a lot of faded roses.

The Quips meet the York Roses for the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Class A basketball crown in the Quaker City's Convention Hall. They are favored to extend their winning streak to 29 games and bring the championship back to Western Pennsylvania.

There are several "ifs" and "unless" involved in the pregame skirmishes. But Coach Sam Milanovich's kids from Beaver Valley have answered about everything imaginable in seven elimination games. They have come from behind, fought-off rallies and won when the whole team was off.

Pressure on Quips

It will take a tall team with plenty of cage savvy and reserves to stop the Quips. The pressure will be on the District VII winners but they have proven themselves to be the kind of gang not to be betting against when the clock is running out and the score is close.

They have come through all of that with a perfect record.

The York Roses have several psychological advantages in the playoff match.

In the first place they are generally considered underdogs. In addition they are the first York squad to ever go as far as the finals. And they will be more-or-less the home team. All of these factors should act in their favor at the Philly extravaganza.

York Has Good Record

The Roses have an enviable record also. Their 43 to 36 triumph over Radnor in the Eastern finals Tuesday was win number 23 in 24 starts.

Their number one weakness may be reserves.

The Western representative has not won the state title since 1944 and the East has a 20-9 over-all margin.

Aliquippa cannot be expected to make a sizeable adjustment on the record with their first effort in the state finals but the Quips are in a good position to bring Keystone basketball supremacy out West for the 1948-49 season.

AMBRIDGE, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Nearly 1,500 Aliquippa High school students and towns people left by special train from Ambridge today for Philadelphia to see Aliquippa battle York for the PIAA Class A basketball championship.

The 110-piece school band also was along to add its voice to the "Let's Go Quips" chant which has rang out triumphantly during 28 Aliquippa games. The Quips are the only unbeaten high school basketball team in Pennsylvania.

Other fans left by automobile Friday and this morning to assure Aliquippa of plenty of support in tonight's battle at Convention Hall.

LONDOS.CARNERA
WRESTLE TO DRAW
DETROIT, April 2.—(INS)—Ageless Jim Londos today shared a toe-hold on his version of the world's wrestling championship with a fellow who once held the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

The 49-year-old Londos wrestled to a draw with Primo Carnera last night before a Detroit crowd of 9,472—who paid $18.061 to see the "world's championship" match.

East And West Tussle Tonight

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—The East-West all-star basketball game at Madison Square Garden tonight will climax the collegiate basketball season.

Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, coach of the Eastern team, plans to start Ernie Vanderweghe, Colgate's all-American, and four of his own Wildcats.

The Western All-Stars will start with Paul Courty of Oklahoma U. and Vern Gardner of Utah as forwards; Ed Macauley of St. Louis as center; and Slater Martin of Texas and Bob Harrison of Michigan as guards.

Batboy Contest Now Under Way

Boys Of Lawrence County Busy Writing On Theme "Why I Want To Be A Batboy"

Mothers and fathers, aunts and uncles, were kept busy last evening as the boys of Lawrence County began writing their "Batboy" themes.

The older folks were busy hunting up pencils, pens and paper, as the youngsters wracked their brains for ideas.

The Batboy Contest is being sponsored jointly by the New Castle News and the New Castle Nats of the Mid-Atlantic baseball league. The winner becomes the head batboy for the season, of 70 home games.

Who will win is the big question today?

Let's Go Boys! Any boy from 12 through 16 is eligible to enter the contest. Simply write 100 words or less on the theme "Why I Want To Be A Batboy." Send all entries to "Batboy Contest," Charles P. "Bugs" Walther, Sports Department, New Castle News, Neatness, punctuation, and spelling will be a determining factor. You may use either pen or pencil.

The contest closes midnight Tuesday, April 12th. A group of prominent New Castle men have been designated as judges.

Come on boys, let's get those themes coming in.

St. Margarets To Meet Sunday

All members of the 1948 St. Margaret's baseball team, of the city league, and any others wishing a tryout for the 1949 team, are asked to meet Sunday evening at 5 o'clock at the St. Margaret's club rooms, by Manager Gene Melchiorre.

The Saints will start workouts as soon as the weather permits.

Roller-Hockey Playoffs Set

Yellow Jackets Agree To Meet Bridgeville In Best Out Of Three Series For Title

New Castle's fighting Yellow Jackets roller-hockey team has condescended to play the Bridgeville team the best out of three series for the roller-hockey conference championship, it was announced by Coach Lee Stoops today.

The conference heads insisted that New Castle arrange a series with the Bridgeville team, and Stoops together with business manager Don Wilson and the players agreed to fulfill the request.

Will Work Out Sunday

The first game of the title series will be played at Bridgeville on Thursday night, April 7. The second game will be played here at the Arena on April 13, it was intimated. If a third game is needed it will be played on a neutral floor, to be decided upon by the heads of both teams.

Coach Stoops has called a practice session for Sunday at the Arena at 4 o'clock. All players are asked to be present as this will be the first warmup for the title battle at Bridgeville. A fighting New Castle team will invade the Bridgeville floor next Thursday.

Moose Tenpin Banquet Sunday

The annual Moose club tenpin bowling league banquet will be held Sunday evening at the Moose club dining hall at 6 o'clock, and a full turnout is anticipated, according to Dave Nathanson. There will be a fine meal and a short speaking program, after which there will be entertainment.

MADONNA BOWLING SCHEDULE CHANGE

Madonna Ten Pin Bowling league will not bowl at the usual time on Monday evening, April 4. Because of services at the church, the bowlers will meet at Neshannock alleys at nine o'clock for their two-hour session instead of the usual seven o'clock.

EAGLES NINE TO MEET

Eagles junior baseball team, aspirants to the Legion league crown, will meet Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at Sunset Dairy on Wilmington avenue.

All of last year's players and any newcomers desiring a tryout who are under 18 will be welcome.

Tempy's Advance To Semi-Finals

Defeat Franklin CPT Team 44-39 As Wimer Stars, Play Again Tonight At Sharon

Tempy's Beach basketball team advanced to the semi-finals of the Sharon Buhl Club tournament last evening by virtue of a win over the Franklin C.P.T. Co. team 44-39 in an exciting game.

The Tempys held the Franklinites to one field goal and one foul in the first period to take the lead 18-3. The second stanza was evenly matched with the Tempys scoring five points and the Franklin team six with the score at half time reading Tempys 23, Franklin 9.

The second half was almost the reverse of the first half with the Franklin boys getting hot and gnawing away at the Tempys lead. The third quarter score read Tempys 31, Franklin 23.

In the last quarter the Franklin team came within one point of Tempys with the score 34-33 but the Tempys got hot and ran the score up to 44, while keeping Franklin in check.

The Tempys had a busy night at the free throw line getting 40 chances and connecting for 24 which provided the margin of victory.

"Old Reliable" Fred Wimer came through for the Tempys to take scoring honors with 15 points while Don Black pitched in with 10.

Horton, a sub for the losers got hot in the second half and scored 15 markers to be high for his team.

Play Tonight

The Tempys go back to Sharon this evening to meet the winner of the New Brighton Legion-Sharon Masons game at the high school at 7:30.

The team will depart from Tempys Beach at 6:15 and quite a large number of fans are expected to follow the team this evening.

Providing the Tempys win the semi-final game, they will meet the winner of the Westminster College-Ravenna Harpers game in the finals.

Score by periods:
Tempy's Beach ..... 18 23 31-44

Kane And Ashley Will Play Tuesday For State B Title

PIAA Selects Farrell High Floor For State Championship Struggle

KANE, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Farrell high school today was chosen as the site for the PIAA class B championship playoff next Tuesday.

Kane high school authorities were notified by Edmund Wicht, secretary of the PIAA, that Farrell had been selected because of the drawing power in the Farrell-Sharpsville area.

Kane will meet Ashley. Ashley reportedly had protested the Farrell site asking that the match be played in their territory.

Youthful Casters To Meet Monday

Several score youths, in age from 12 to 18, will assemble at 7:30 p. m. Monday, in Ben Franklin junior high school gymnasium, to receive their third free lesson in outdoors life, such as fly-casting, bait-casting, and fly-tying. Last Monday night more than 60 participants in casting and greatly enjoyed casting a plug at a ring. Many will have become proficient at fly casting and be ready for trout season, April 15.

West Pittsburg Will Workout

Manager John DeMonaco, of the West Pittsburg "Gas House Gang" has called a workout for Sunday at 2 o'clock (weather permitting), and would like all 1948 players and any others wishing a tryout to attend the practice session. West Pittsburg is a member of the city baseball league.

Last Night's Ring Results

(By International News Service)

At New York (Madison Square Garden)—Kid Gavilan, 146, Cuba, scored a unanimous ten-round decision over world's lightweight champion Ike Williams, 136½, Trenton, N. J. (non-title).

Arthur King, 135½, Toronto Canada, defeated Johnny LaRusso, 138½, New York 18.

The design selected for the federal "duck stamp" for the 1949-50 hunting season will feature Goldeneye ducks.

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 2.—Welterweight champion Ray Robinson, who specializes in vacillating, was doing so all over the place today, and with good reason.

Kid Gavilan, the slashing Cuban who already had established himself as the leading pretender to the 147-pound throne, cemented his claims last night by winning an impressive and unanimous decision over Ike Williams, king of the lightweights.

Ray Can't Duck Now

As a result, Robinson now is in the position where he can't duck Gavilan any longer. Sugar Ray, who has trouble making the welterweight weight limit anyway, either will have to meet the Cuban cutie or go through with his alternative objective of taking a crack at Marcel Cerdan's middleweight title.

The 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden last night did not involve Williams' title but it was important because of the Robinson angle and also because it was the rubber match between Ike and Gavilan. This time, the Kid's margin was so decisive that there was no question of over-superciority. Gavilan had a margin of at least three rounds over the extremely capable Williams.

Williams Beaten

Williams tried to outfox Gavilan by changing his style. Instead of boring in with his usual relentless slugging, Ike stayed back on the grass. But the Cuban found the target for the night repeatedly with a flashing left hook, and occasionally brought in a right from left field just to provide variety.

A weight swing also favored Gavilan. In his two previous clashes with Williams, the Kid had enjoyed an advantage of only five pounds. Last night he had an edge of 9½.

Capacity Crowd

A virtual capacity crowd of 18,201 paid $95,865 in gross receipts to witness the rubber of the fistie serial.

For a time in the last round, it looked as though Williams might go down under a series of left hooks and authoritative rights to the head, but Ike proved his class by riding out the Kid's attack.

To sum it up, Ike looked like a boy who had been sent to do a man's work. It was a case of a good little man not being good enough to whip a good big man.

Rodgers Heads North County

Ten Teams Seek Franchises In North County 1949 Circuit, Elect Officers

Howard Rodgers was elected president and ten teams applied for 1949 franchises as the North County baseball league held its initial meeting last night at Carm's Place, 112 West Washington street.

Other officers elected were: vice president, Paul Sankey; secretary, Ivan Young; treasurer, Adam Grell.

Ten Teams Present

The following teams were represented: Volant, East Brook, New Bedford, Pulaski, New Wilmington, Edenburg, Castlewood, VFW Post 522, No. 5 Mine and Brent.

It was agreed that all franchise money should be in at the next meeting April 8 and the league closed at that time. The opening date will be selected at the next session. Considerable interest is being shown in the circuit this year.

Albert M. Day, director of the U. S. fish and wildlife service, reports an "encouraging increase" in the North American waterfowl population. A heavy decline was reported in the coot population, however.

Zack Taylor Has Refused To Pick Browns For Flag

By ZACK TAYLOR
Manager of the St. Louis Browns (Written Especially for I. N. S.)

BURBANK, Cal., April 1.—Another season has rolled around, and once again I've been asked to predict the 1949 finish of the St. Louis Browns in the American league race.

I wish I could answer that now. All I can say is that the Browns will be a young fast and hustling ball club, and we seem to have an improved pitching staff. We finished sixth in 1948 when all the experts predicted we wouldn't win 20 games. But we fooled 'em.

We tied the previous season's record of 59 victories when we were loaded with "name" players, yet finished a bad last. We could have won a few more games if we had good relief pitching last year. But we just didn't have the trimmen.

Seventeen Pitchers

I'm working with 17 pitchers at the present time. Holdovers are Cliff Fanning, Ned Garver, Bill Kennedy, Joe Ostrowski and Frank Biscan.

Then we have Karl Drews and Red Embree, both former Yankees; Tom Ferriek, formerly of the Senators, and Bob Savage whom we purchased from the Philadelphia Athletics. Prospects from the minors include Ernie Bickhaus, Jim Bilbrey, Bob Malloy, Irving Medlinger, Bob Roney, Ray Shore and Dick Starr.

We'll probably retain 11 of the pitchers. One thing for certain we know that we have one of the best relief pitchers in Ferriek. He is a big fellow and can work often.

Good Middle

We have one of the best double play combination in baseball in Jerry Priddy at second and Eddie Pellagrini at short. We turned in 190 double plays last year, just missing breaking the all-time record by only eight. We probably would have broken the record if Pellagrini had played all of the games. They turned in 64 double plays.

Priddy, considered one of the best second basemen in the league, figured in 133 twin killings, and started 60 of them. Pellagrini participated in 83 double plays. He was the starter in 38 of them.

Our infield should be one of the best in the league. We'll have extra power at first base in Jack Graham or Hank Arft. And everybody knows what a sweet ball player Bob Dillinger is at third base.

Catchers Improve

Les Moss and Sherman Lollar, who was obtained in a deal with the Yankees during the winter, will do the catching. I'd say that's another department that's greatly improved over last year. Both boys are good hitters. Don't be surprised if they bat either fifth or sixth this year. They'll knock in plenty of runs for us.

Paul Lehner doesn't take a back seat to anyone when it comes to playing center field. And, if you want to dig deeper in the pasture, we have Dick Kokos, a young outfielder with plenty of pep, spirit and ability. He's always hustling. Then what's wrong with fellows like Zarilla, Whitey Platt, and a couple of potential rookie stars in Roy Siever and Ken Wood?

As I said before it's the pitching that makes or breaks a team. If we get it, I'll again say that we will be tough.

Service At Its Best
OUR POLICY REMAINS AS IT WAS THEN

Our pre-war flat labor charges were not increased during the war and remain unchanged.

Despite handicaps during the war we served you without interruption—promptly, efficiently, courteously. THAT POLICY REMAINS UNCHANGED.

Prior to the war we anticipated shortages of repair parts. We built up a huge stock and today we maintain stocks at pre-war levels.

When production started—and our factory was first to start—cars and trucks were delivered on a first come, first served basis—without demanding; used cars in trade or other exacting attitudes. We continue that policy.

"THE CAR OF THE YEAR," the Ford 49er is the recognized style leader. It continues in great demand—but our policy takes the customer into consideration FIRST when effecting delivery.

WE ARE PROUD OF OUR CLIENTELE and their implicit faith in us. We cordially invite you to get in line for a Ford 49er. You'll be proud of your purchase and our proprietary interest.
